U. S. LEGAL TENDER NOTES, PRICED RIGHT!

- $1. 1862. Chase I. Friedberg 16. Large Serial Numbers; 64131. F-VF; seal weak. Clean! $13.00
 Another. Rarer variety with really small Serial Numbers; 73230. Strictly Fine. RR. 18.50
- $2. 1862. Hamilton left c. F-41. Close to Very Fine; bright impressions, but seal weak 34.50
 Another. Like the last with large Serial Nos. About Fine. Not as bright as the preceding, but attractive in spite of slight counting soil at r. obv. end. Lists $60. VF! 19.50
- $5. 1863. Liberty I., Hamilton r. F-63. Extremely Fine, partially crisp. Desirable!..... 54.50
 Another. Very Fine. Seal not as bright as upon last. Lists $47.50 VF..... 37.50
 A third. Low SN's; 7224. Bottom note on sheet, with "Register marks." Abt. V. Fine 29.50
 The fourth. Also a "bottom note" (Plate letter "D"). Fine plus; traces of soil.... 22.50
 Still another "bottom note." This one the rarer variety with really small Serial Numbers; 84576. More or less Ex. Fine, still partly crisp. The seal clear and bright. RR. 59.50
- $10. 1863. Lincoln I., Eagle c., Art r. F-95. Strictly Ex. Fine, still relatively crisp. Obtained as "AU," which is stretching a point. A very attractive bill!..... 69.50
 Duplicate. Similar in appearance to the last, but the counting soil at r. obv. end a bit more prominent; cut close at upper r. obv. corner. Partially crisp, desirable 58.50
 A third. Just about Very Fine. Deep, vivid impressions. Friedberg valued at $75! 44.50
- $20. 1863. Liberty at c. F-126. Large SN's; 69445. Top note on sheet, "Register marks" in the top margin. Plate letter "A," with the usual flourishes. Strictly Very Fine, the reverse boldly impressed. This denomination priced by Friedberg at $150 so 117.50
 Another. Large SN's; 45243. Likewise Very Fine, but not quite as choice as last... 108.50
 A third. Also a "top note." This one, however, the decidedly rare (particularly in this denomination) variety with really small Serial Numbers; 75833. VF. Clean, bright, and seldom seen. A good buy for the farsighted specialist 132.50
 Variety with Plate letter "A" without flourishes. Top note on sheet; obv. plate "3." Large SN's; 47293. Purchased as "Ex. Fine," and probably close to it. "20" in green on obv. lightly printed. Extremely rare (perhaps excessively so, if this obverse plate is the only one lacking the flourishes). The only example we remember seeing! 172.50
- The rarest type of '63 Legal Tender Note. NATIONAL BANK NOTE COMPANY and AMERICAN BANK NOTE CO. NEW YORK, at bottom obv. center; PATENTED 30 JUNE 1857, in green, at obv. l. end; lacking (red) Serial Number at bottom l. end. Obverse green under-print, in "olive green." Superior to any of the above condition-wise. Crisp enough to be called AU, in spite of one evident vertical fold; less counting soil at the right obv. end than generally seen. Signatures of Chittenden & Spinner sloppily printed (as usual on this type). (Unknown to R. Friedberg, this type published by us nine years ago.) A really great rarity 267.50
- $100. 1863. Large American Eagle at l. F-167. Plate letter "C"; obv. plate "3."; NEW SERIES 1. Identical to note pictured in Friedberg, Fourth Edition, pg. 44, except SN's 55079. Fine, with some claims to VF. Seal faded, and with evidence of washing at r. obverse end to remove counting soil, but a clean, attractive looking note, lacking serious folds or tears. The first we have had in six or seven years, and decidedly superior to the last one. A major rarity, as very few of these impressive high denomination bills, issued during the Civil War, just one hundred years ago, are still extant. A bargain at 745.00
- $1. 1869. Washington at c. F-18. Obverse plate 1; numeral "1" in margin at top c. V.F. 37.50
- $2. 1869. Jefferson at l., Capitol view, F-42. An Uncirculated note that was washed carefully to remove slight traces of counting soil. Obtained (naturally) as "crisp." V. Scarce 187.50
 Another. SN's; U2788906. Almost, but not quite, a perfect match for the last 180.00
- $10. 1869. Webster I., Presentation of Indian Princess r., Eagle at bottom obv. center (which when inverted, resembles a "Jackass"). F-96. Very Fine; slight "crinkling" at r. end. 57.50
 Another. Just about, but not quite as nice. Friedberg priced at $90. VF. 52.00
 A third. Still Very Fine, but not really as desirable as the last. These are uncommon 49.50
- $20. 1869. Hamilton I., Victory r. F-127. Obverse plate 6; numeral "6" in margin at top c. Very Fine. Seal impression, and reverse, bright and vividly printed. Faintest traces of counting soil at r. end of the obverse; two or so obvious pinholes (common-place upon these early bills). A better than acceptable example of this very rare and popular note; an excellent buy! 239.50
 Similar. Very Fine. Somewhat better centered upon the obverse than last, but seal not as bright. Minor, hardly important indications of reverse soil. Better than most! 217.50
 A third. Fine or so. Seal and balance of obverse carmine printing, pale. With evidence of reverse soil slightly more obvious than upon last. Friedberg values this rarity at $350. VF. A most reasonable purchase, at only 162.50

We have a most representative stock of U. S. Currency; your Want List is most respectfully solicited.

AMERICAN NUMISMATIC ASSOCIATION

The American Numismatic Association, an educational and nonprofit organization, is the largest and most active numismatic body in the world. It invites and welcomes to membership all worthy persons seventeen years of age or over, who have a sincere interest in numismatics, whether they collect coins, paper money, tokens or medals, whether advanced collectors or only those generally interested in the subject without being collectors. The Association was founded in 1891, and has about 25,000 members from every state in the Union and many foreign countries. It was chartered for fifty years by Act of Congress May 9, 1912; renewed in perpetuity by Act of Congress April 10, 1962 and is a mutual organization for the benefit of its members.

All Association members, except Associate, receive the official publication, The Numismatist, without cost other than their annual dues. Membership applications should be accompanied by $5.00 for the first year's dues and $5.00 admittance fee. Annual dues are $5.00. Nonmember subscription, $6.00. Single copy, fifty cents. For application blanks, subscriptions or general information, write to the General Secretary.

The Numismatist is an illustrated monthly which has been issued continuously since its founding in 1888, consists of 144 pages or more in each number with subscribers in about sixty countries. Advertising inquiries should be sent to the Advertising Manager. All other matters for possible publication in or concerning The Numismatist are to be forwarded to the Editor. Unsolicited manuscripts, which are sent at the owner's risk, and other correspondence calling for a reply must be accompanied by stamped, self-addressed envelopes. Opinions expressed in articles published in The Numismatist are those of the authors and do not necessarily represent the views of the American Numismatic Association or the Editor.

PROPOSED COINAGE OF CYPRUS

By

LAURENT L. JERONYMIDES, A.N.A. No. 44129

A new issue of coins of the Republic of Cyprus is scheduled for 1963, according to a letter the writer has received from the appropriate department of the government. The exact date has not yet been fixed, however. Line drawings of the proposed coinage pictured here are enlarged.

The obverse, common to all denominations, shows the emblem of the Republic with the year (1960) of the independence of the island below; above is the year of issue ("1961" in the accompanying illustration of the proposed coins) dividing the wreath encircling the emblem; legend around is "Republic of Cyprus" in the languages of both Greece and Turkey.

The reverses are as follows:

- Fig. 1. 1 mil. Numeral 1 surrounded by a wreath of grain. Size approximately 12 mm. in diameter. Twelve sided.
- Fig. 2. 5 mils. Ship with numeral 5 on upper left. Size approximately 15 mm. in diameter. Round.
- Fig. 3. 25 mils. Cedar cone with the number 25 on the upper right. Size approximately 12 mm. in diameter. Round.
- Fig. 4. 50 mils. Bunch of grapes with number 50 below. Size approximately 15 mm. in diameter. Round.
- Fig. 5. 100 mils. Moufflon with number 100 below. Size approximately 18 mm. in diameter.

U. S. GOLD COINS APPROVED FOR IMPORT

The U. S. Treasury Department has released this list of U. S. gold coins, which, if genuine and of legal issue, are of such exceptional numismatic value as to warrant licenses for their importation into the United States under the provisions of Section 54.20 (d) of the Treasury Department Gold Regulations:

Motto Will Appear on All Paper Money

Since the motto IN GOD WE TRUST was first placed on our $1 bills in 1957, I am often asked when it will appear on the other denominations. Senator J. W. Fulbright was a great help in getting this legislation through the Senate at that time, so I wrote him to obtain some accurate information on this subject. He received a letter from the Director of the Bureau of Engraving and Printing which said in part:

"All $1 Silver certificates are now being printed with the national motto IN GOD WE TRUST. In keeping with Public Law 140, the Bureau will expand the use of the motto to other denominations as new dies and printing plates are prepared in conjunction with its program of modernization. Ultimately, all United States paper currency will bear this motto.

"In the Bureau's evaluation program of new press equipment which may have a potential use in meeting certain future requirements for currency production, experimental printing plates in the $10 Federal Reserve denomination have been used. As a result of this evaluation program, bids were recently invited from prominent manufacturers for four new high-speed sheet-fed rotary intaglio printing presses. Although bids which may be received in response to these invitations will not be opened for about two months, it has been indicated that delivery of such press equipment will require about two years.

"When this new press equipment is acquired and its successful performance has been demonstrated, the use of the motto IN GOD WE TRUST will be expanded to higher denominations of currency. Although it is conceivable that the $10 Federal Reserve note will be among the first of the higher denominations to be printed with the motto, the actual sequence for conversion has not been established."

I sincerely hope that this schedule can be hurried along because from my conversations with other paper money collectors and from letters I receive, it seems that these new bills are anxiously being awaited by collectors.

Numismatic Vignettes

■ Time recently carried a short article about American Bank Note Company. Mostly it dealt with the amount of business the firm does, which isn't measured in pennies or peanuts. It stresses security (no free samples) and measures taken to foil counterfeiters. One, says Time, is the skill of America's engravers in making human flesh look so real that it is difficult to copy.

This is an old secret, used by the producers of our pre-Civil War bank notes, who were even fussy about the area of skin to be exposed. Some may think the frequent appearance of a woman's bare torso on bank notes was to draw attention, or an effort to be artistic. Not so, in most cases. Only a skilled engraver can make a woman look real and lifelike. Another of the counterfeiter's difficulties was (and is) to put life and reality in a man's or woman's eyes.

If you want to find counterfeit bank notes—and they are plentiful—look at these two features. Even in checking today's U.S. paper money, Secret Service calls attention to the eyes of the portrait. Probably it would suggest scrutiny of the female bosom if any had been shown undraped since the large size third charter notes of 1902 ceased to circulate.

■ Today is the first day of Spring, so a savings and loan company in Chicago's loop has two pretty girls handing a spring flower to each person who enters its door. Few can resist the lure of "something for nothing," and it is amusing to see some rather rough characters walking out with a posy. It appears that some of them are completely lacking in appreciation for the beauty and delicacy of the flowers they carry away.

Have'n't you seen people with numismatic items for which you felt they lacked understanding and appreciation? Maybe this is the attribute which differentiates a "numismatist" from a "collector." The former, by study and research, understands and appreciates his material, while the latter is satisfied with mere possession—especially if he can boast of having obtained some bargains or that the catalog prices of his treasures have risen sharply since he acquired them. There's nothing wrong with monetary gain, of course, but it should not be the prime objective in numismatics.

■ Coin clipping ain't what it used to be. The Chicago Daily Tribune carried an editorial on the day that one of its "colleagues" was at the Mint in Philadelphia fulfilling his solemn duty as a member of the 1963 Annual Assay Commission. The gist of the editorial was that the annual Trial of the Coins is outdated, outworn and just plain useless. What concerns us, said the "Trib," is what is happening to the purchasing power of our coins, rather than their metallic content.

We agree. Debasing and clipping coins went out of fashion with the stagecoach and muzzle loader. A modern government uses more insidious methods of extracting money from its citizenry, such as issuing paper "money" against the public debt which it raises periodically, issuing unrestricted amounts of irredeemable printing press "promises to pay," and by the control of credit. By these criteria we have a modern government which is reaching into the pockets of present and future generations. The purity of its coinage is irrelevant. After all, as of December 31, 1962, only eight cents of every dollar circulating were in coin.

■ Maybe you've heard of the miserly counterfeiter who was never caught—he never spent any of the money he made.

■ Memo to Chairman Khrushchev: If you run short of claims for the accomplishments of Russia and her people, you may tell the world that a Russian designed the coin most commonly used in the United States today. Since it is only the lowly Lincoln cent, your people won't be jealous of the money we have. Some may say that Victor D. Brenner was a Lithuanian, but you will point out that Lithuania was ruled by Russia when he was born in the town of Shavely, or Shavli, in 1871. It isn't clear to you why this craftsman left the Baltic area in 1890 and came to America, but life here must have been difficult and disappointing to him because he died in his 53rd year. Yes, Brenner was born in Russia and possessed talent as a Russian, but it was in America that he found encouragement to develop and express his natural abilities. —GLENN S.

A FORGERY OF A MEXICAN PILLAR DOLLAR

By

DR. CHARLES E. WEBER, LM 285

UNFORTUNATELY another instance of a forgery of a coin interesting to collectors of the U. S. series must be reported in addition to that of early New England silver coinage discussed with great insight by Eric Newman (Numismatist, February, 1963; pp. 147-150). The one in question is that of a 1739 pillar dollar of the well known type struck for many years in Mexico City. It came into the hands of this writer at a recent coin show held in Louisiana.

The general appearance of this forgery does not give rise to any suspicion at first except for the fact that its reeding seems to have been filed to some extent, more or less in a herring-bone design. Of course, such an alteration, per se, is not proof that a coin is not genuine. There is slight wear on high places of a type that could have been caused by cabinet friction over a long period of time, but the piece is remarkably free of any nicks. Perhaps the slight wear was intentionally produced by the forger. The condition is thus about extra fine.

Another deceptive feature of this counterfeit is its normal, gray tarnish. After the rather heavy film of tarnish and dirt was removed by means of soap, water and soda, the surface became much more open to suspicion; examination under a strong magnifying glass revealed some small but deep holes of a type that might have been produced in casting. Despite the small amount of wear, no characteristic mint luster is apparent after the coin had been slightly cleaned.

The really conclusive evidence that the piece is a forgery, however, is its weight and specific gravity. Although the piece shows little wear, its weight is far below normal—23.4 grams instead of the approx. 27 grams normal for these coins. (Even a rather badly worn coin of this weight and diameter does not lose more than about 5% of its normal weight.)

The most decisive evidence against the coin is its specific gravity, which I found to be about 8.85. This is close to the specific gravity of copper and of nickel, although no pronounced copper color is evident on the surface. Furthermore, the color revealed by a small test filing also does not differ from that of coinage silver. (The specific gravity of pure silver is about 10.5, while that of silver alloyed with copper, 900 fine, is about 10.3.)

One simple method by which a collector can protect himself against forgeries of this type is the specific gravity of the coin under consideration. Specific gravity determinations are not very difficult and do not require much time or equipment. (The specific gravity of a metal object is its weight divided by the difference between its weight in air and its weight in water.) After some practice on coins of known authenticity and metal, anyone can carry out a specific gravity test of some accuracy by means of a simple balance scales such as described in The Numismatist of November, 1953, pp. 1152-5.

In conclusion, let us make a few observations on the general status of this forgery. Like the New England silver pieces discussed by Newman, the Mexican colonial milled dollars, i.e. the pieces of eight reales struck with the pillar or "columnario" design from 1732 to 1772 and with the various bust designs from 1772 into the 1820s were produced in ever larger quantities into the Nineteenth Century. They are of very great interest to collectors of the U.S. series, since both the pillar dollars and the bust dollars were forerunners, at least the immediate ones, of our own silver dollars struck beginning with the year 1794. Unlike the New England silver pieces, however, they are not great rarities, even those struck in the late 1730s. Nevertheless the great demand for these pieces that has developed in recent years has caused their prices to advance considerably despite their having been minted in rather large quantities.

The forgery under consideration, unlike those discussed by Newman, is only modestly "sophisticated." On the other hand, its size, ring and general appearance is close enough to those of the original to deceive even an experienced collector not aware of these forgeries and not armed at the moment with a balance scales and the opportunity to perform a specific gravity determination. Alas, we cannot very well carry around such equipment when purchasing coins of modest value. Even a small test cut could not cause suspicion. The forger was too greedy to use fine silver and thus his work can be detected under more propitious circumstances.

There are some reasons this writer has for believing that this forgery might be one of a considerable number coming onto the market. (These are now being made in Mexico and are being sold every week in the Sunday morning market. Many other coins in addition to the columnarios are being produced and offered.) The piece in question was in a lot of about six with similar appearance.

Even forgeries such as this one can cause some confusion and disillusionment, even if they are of coins of modest value. Counterfeits of coins of low cost can also be dangerous simply because they are not subjected to as close examination as those of great rarity.

It is probably correct to say that the Mexican pillar dollars have advanced in price and demand to the point at which even fairly good efforts to forge them are beginning to be potentially profitable. They are not yet expensive enough, however, to make really painstaking efforts rewarding.

Both the New England series and the Mexican series offer considerable temptations to forgers, since the close connections between them and the U. S. series increase demand, even if the forgers might not be subject to prosecution under laws pertaining to the counterfeiting of U. S. coins. It is perhaps in this very fact that the real danger lies.

Constant warnings about forgeries coming onto the market must be issued to collectors lest our field of study and collecting comes into bad repute. Some concern with and publicity on current counterfeits will probably be sufficient to discourage all but the really skillful forgers. A well-informed body of collectors can, at least, make the work of forgers, who do so much damage to numismatics, considerably more difficult and expensive.

Book Reviews

Dictionary Catalogue of the American Numismatic Society Library, published by G. K. Hall & Co., 1963, 5,920 pp., 7 vols., bound, $465.00.

Numismatic scholars and writers now have available what may be the most useful tool of their craft. A Boston publishing firm, G. K. Hall & Co., has just published in book form the card file of the library of the American Numismatic Society. Here in one source is recorded the references to all the books, pamphlets, and catalogs in the massive A.N.S. library — the largest numismatic library outside of Europe. Also included are references to major stories of all prominent numismatic periodicals of the world.

Titled the Dictionary and Auction Catalogues of the Library of the American Numismatic Society, the huge undertaking took eight months to complete. Three-by-five catalog cards were photographed 21 to a page. The resulting 5,920 pages required seven large 10 by 14 inch volumes. Over 128,000 cards were reproduced. Of the seven volumes, six are devoted to the books and periodicals in the A.N.S. library. The seventh is a separate listing of auction catalogs, analyzed by owner, dealer, and American or foreign.

Containing 50,000 items — books, periodicals, pamphlets, auction catalogs and fixed price lists — the library of the American Numismatic Society is housed in the Society's museum in New York City on Broadway between 155th and 156th Streets. The library is considered one of the top numismatic libraries in the world. Scholars from England and Europe come to A.N.S. for research. Librarian is Richard P. Breaden, who heads a staff of three.

The G. K. Hall company specializes in publishing catalogs and indexes. One company official expressed the hope when publication of the A.N.S. catalog was announced that the work would be useful not only for numismatic libraries, but also for professional and amateur collectors as well.

While the seven volume set is expensive, $465.00, the books are well produced. Printed on Permalife paper specially developed for long life and hard use in libraries, each of the seven volumes is oversewn and bound in Class A library binding stamped in gold. The cost is justified, however, by the references. The Society's holdings are strong in all branches of numismatics. Particularly noteworthy are the collections of numismatic periodicals and European and American auction catalogs. There is also manuscript material and microfilm copies of books difficult to obtain in original form. All numismatic periodicals are analyzed on the catalog cards. This has been done with every numismatic periodical since 1930, as well as many major ones prior to that time.

Any serious numismatic student can find the seven volume set worthwhile if he possesses even a minimum of several years' run of The Numismatist and Numismatist Scrapbook Magazine as many references are directed to articles in these two journals. As the number of books he possesses increases, the greater the use for this newly published catalog.

The only shortcomings in the catalog are perhaps the various style rules undoubtedly used by different librarians as they cataloged the holdings down through the years. A few cards are misfiled. (Most embarrassing in this last respect, perhaps, is an entry on the American Numismatic Association — a story by Jack Ogilvie on A.N.A. past Presidents. It is listed among the Society's own publications under A.N.S. instead of A.N.A.)

It may take the reader a short while to become familiar with the classification system of the A.N.S. library. Subject headings are both general and extensive. This work should, however, prove to be both the first and the last place to look when doing research on any topic in the entire numismatic field.

A Guide Book of Mexican Decimal Coins, 1863-1963, by Theodore V. Buttrey, Jr., historical and supplementary data by Neil Shafer, Whitman Publishing Company, 1963, Racine, Wis., board covers, 128 pp., illus., $1.50.

Another example of the "eternal triangle" in coin collecting has reached the second apex with the appearance of a popularly priced book on modern Mexican coins. There has been increased interest in Mexican coins for several years which, as in many other instances, will surely gain impetus with the publication of this fine book. In general appearance and style, Whitman followed its successful Guide Book of United States Coins and Standard Catalogue of Canadian Coins, Tokens and Paper Money. The quality of printing is excellent, illustrations are numerous and clear with many enlargements to show over-dates and other details, and prices of several conditions are in U. S. dollars and cents. In groupings by denomination, the date, mint, quantity coined and estimated prices are all on one line.

The introduction to the catalog stresses an important fact: Prices shown are meant only as a rough and relative indication of values. This is a series in which there has been little activity in the minor coins, and more experience will be necessary to establish values in the new market. Yet this book gives a starting point and a basis for compiling better guides to values in the future. A helpful feature is that prices of speculative coins are shown in italics.

This reviewer was especially interested in and pleased with the historical background and other information given on this century of coinage, which went through several basic changes. While the book will be invaluable to those already collecting Mexican coins, it most certainly will stimulate others to enter the field. It matters not where the contribution of the author and his historian is drawn; together they have produced a most readable and informative text from which Whitman has brought forth a valuable addition to the numismatic literature available to collectors. We believe that, especially considering the low price of $1.50, this book should be in the library of every coin collector in America. Even without the estimated pricing of coins, the general information contained is well worth the cost to anyone who has gone beyond the stage of collecting current coins. — GLENN S.

Ancient Trial Plates: A Description of the Ancient Gold and Silver Trial Plates Deposited in the Pyx Stronghold of the Royal Mint by J. H. Watson, C. B. E., M. C., 1962, Her Majesty's Stationery Office, London, 104 pp., illus., 21s.

Occasionally there comes to our desk a book which stands out from its brothers just as a rare coin in a dealer's "junk" box does. Handsomely printed on high quality paper, illustrated by excellent plates, and of sound integrity and authenticity, this work by Dr. Watson, retired Chemist and Assayer of the British Royal Mint, qualifies. Official sponsor is the Mint and publisher is Her Majesty's Stationery Office.

"Although it is thought the Trial of the Pyx was practised by the Saxons, the first known is that of 1281 during the reign of Edward I. The trial plates on which the author based his study are held in the Pyx stronghold of the Royal Mint. Of legally prescribed composition for gold and silver coins, they were standards against which pieces saved throughout the year were judged.

The author offers brief historic sketches on British gold and silver coinages, describes the Trial of the Pyx, and gives abstracts of trial verdicts in table form. Both ancient gold and silver plates are illustrated with pertinent information on facing pages. Recent trial plates are described but not pictured.

Although dealing with a highly specialized subject, Ancient Trial Plates should appeal not only to numismatists but also to antiquarians, historians and others in related fields. And when it comes to a gift for a numismatist who has everything, the giver need look no further. — ELSTON G. BRADFELD.

New Zealand to Switch to Decimals. New Zealand will adopt a decimal currency in 1967 — one year after Australia — Finance Minister Harry Lake has announced. He said the proposed changeover, which the government approved in principle last year, would be coördinated with Australia's currency changes. It is understood the New Zealand system will be based on ten shillings, as in South Africa.

A.N.A. CONVENTION CHAIRMAN REPORTS

To let the numismatists of the country know how the 1963 A.N.A. convention, to be held in Denver August 7-10, is progressing, I am giving you this report and hope that it will be of interest to you.

First, on the over-all picture, everything is proceeding according to schedule, with all committees busy and doing a wonderful job of lining up their respective duties. There is a great deal of interest being taken by the local coin clubs, as well as the other clubs throughout the state. We are all working together to assure a memorable convention. So, here's hoping that you can come and be with us. A rundown on some of the committees follows.

The Exhibit Committee Chairman, Billie Baker, reports that there will be numerous exhibits here, both competitive and noncompetitive. However, we still have plenty of space for more. If you wish to exhibit, drop Mr. Baker a line and he will be glad to send you the exhibit forms. Among the exhibits will be some of the most interesting collections of all metals used in coins, ancient coins to the modern. As we probably have one of the largest exhibit areas, this should be a rare opportunity to see some of the finest collections in the country.

A fine job has been done by our Medals Committee, Charles and Jim Nelson. The medal is being made by Medallic Arts Co. of New York, which does some of the most outstanding art work in the country. Incorporated in the medal are the coins that were made in Colorado during pioneer days and later. All those who register will receive a medal in bronze as a part of the registration fee. The medal is a composite of the four coins that were made and used in early Colorado: Pikes Peak, as represented on the Clark Gruber $10 and $20 gold piece; a Conway coin; a Parsons coin; and a Leshner dollar. Using the old fur trappers' expression when they came out of the mountains or other places where they were trapping to hold a reunion once a year, we are holding a "Rocky Mountain rendezvous" for collectors. There will also be available five hundred numbered medals in both bronze and silver. These will be sold as a set to those here at the convention who want them. If you cannot be here, they can be ordered by mail. The price for the pair of medals is $10; or, mounted in a beautiful lettered plastic holder, $12.50. If sets are ordered by mail, delivery will be made after the convention.

As the medals will be finished and Charley and Jim's job on this committee will be done long before convention time, they have graciously agreed to take on another very important committee, our House Committee. This committee will see that everything connected with the hotel and its facilities is planned well in advance and that everything anyone might need is there at the time it is needed.

Our Bourse Committee, consisting of Walt Laub and Al Pope, has been hard at work. The bourse room is planned to the last minute detail, and the participating dealers will be assigned their tables within a very short time. It might be mentioned that we have what we consider to be the pick of the dealers of the country. There will be 101 dealers from all parts of the United States, some from Canada and England. Unfortunately, there were many fine dealers we could not accommodate because of space limitation. We wish that we could have included them all, but there just was not room. Our bourse room will have exceptionally good lighting and wide aisles.

A new thought, with which we hope to make you feel at home, is our Greeter's Committee, headed by the best Greeter of them all, Bill McConnell. This committee's purpose is to help convention goers in any way they can, to get them acquainted with one another, to answer questions, and to help find their way about the hotel or the city of Denver. Bill has lots of plans as to how to make everyone feel at home, so when you are here and need a little help, don't hesitate to ask one of the greeters—or for that matter, ask any of the hosts or hostesses. All will give you a very friendly Western welcome, which is characteristic of our part of the country.

For registration, we have our very hard-working Esther Defabaugh in charge. She tells me that things are well in hand and that she has a dozen helpers ready and eager to go, plus help from our Denver Convention Center. We feel that you will be taken care of efficiently and quickly. The registration fee will be $3.00, and this will give you one of the official badges, which alone is worth the price of registration. Also registrants will be entitled to the official program, which will contain all of the official events. It will also have one of the most beautiful covers — at least we think so — of any program from any convention. This cover will be in two colors and will make a fine souvenir. For those who wish to pre-register, the fee will be $3.00 per person. You can send either check or money orders in ahead of time and save having to register when you get here. Address any letter on this subject to Registration Committee, c/o Dan Brown, 1532 Broadway, Denver 2, Colo.

In charge of security, we have a couple of very well-qualified gentlemen, Dave Susman and Sgt. Charles Jones. They are making every effort to see that things are as they should be. Starting the Monday morning prior to the opening, a security room will be set up at 9:00 a.m. for the early arrivals who wish to place their valuables in this room. Tuesday, exhibitors will begin setting up their exhibits, and there will be continuous guard service in the exhibit room day and night, until the end of the convention. The bourse will open on Wednesday, and the finest security will be available day and night until the bourse closes. A new feature, and one that we are sure will go over quite well with those who wish to stay over for the banquet and the weekend, is that we will again open the security room Saturday at noon and will keep continuous guards there until Monday morning at 10:00 a.m., August 12. This will enable those wanting to attend the banquet to have maximum security on Saturday, Sunday and Monday morning. At this time, they can contact several of the local banks if they wish to store their valuables longer while enjoying vacation time here in our beautiful state of Colorado.

The Entertainment Committee is headed by Lucile and Scott Key, Margaret Howell, and my wife, Thelma Brown. On Wednesday, August 7, there will be a bus tour to the Air Force Academy, located near Colorado Springs. It is one of the three major military academies of the country, and of course is the newest one. The busses will leave the Hilton Hotel in Denver shortly after 11:00 a.m. and will arrive at the Academy in time for lunch in the cadet's mess — a privilege in itself. There will be a tour of the grounds and the buildings, by bus and on foot, under the leadership of trained guides from the Air Force Academy. The busses will leave the Academy in time to be at the hotel in Denver about 5:00 p.m. All plans and arrangements for this tour were made by Lt. Col. Charles Bialka, an active collector stationed in Denver at Lowry Field. We have Col. Bialka to thank especially for the arrangements for lunch in the cadet's mess, and think that everyone will appreciate this quite interesting experience.

Thursday will be the big day for the ladies. They will have a brunch, 11:00 a.m. until approximately 1:00 p.m., in one of our beautiful new buildings and clubs, the Petroleum Club of Denver, a block from the hotel. The club has a lovely modern dining room with an all-encompassing view of the mountains in the distance, and a promise of a wonderful menu — from what I've overheard of the plans.

Shortly after brunch, busses will leave at approximately 2:00 p.m. for our famous mountain mining town, Central City, 45 miles up in the mountains. It is an easy trip to what once was one of the richest square miles of land in the world. There will be a visit through a working mine and museum, also to the world-famous Opera House and to the Teller House, which contains the famous "Face on The Barroom Floor." Central City is now a town of about three blocks in length, but with interesting activities, shops, and excitement. It will be a most fascinating and enjoyable trip for all who would like to see a real gold-mining town. The busses will return to the hotel in time for dinner. Then comes the highlight of the American Numismatic Association convention, the Educational Forum, starting at 8:00 p.m. Thursday. This will feature five of the leading numismatists of the nation. This should be a must for every collector.

Friday there will be a bus trip to our famous Coors Brewery, 12 miles from Denver. Not only does Coors have a brewery but it also makes some of the pottery for our missiles and for other general purposes as well. This trip will take you underneath Lookout Mt., where Buffalo Bill is buried. In the late afternoon, there will be a trip to a reconstructed Western town called East Tincup, Colo. Busses will run to this little frontier town just in time for a "shoot-'em-up." There will be the fun of being around the town, with many things to see and do, followed by a real Western "chuck-wagon" dinner. Doesn't this sound like fun? The committee is also planning another tour, but, as it is still in the formulation stages, I cannot tell you about it except in a rather sneaky sort of way. It sounds as if there will be some very nice tours of the city of Denver, arranged by the host clubs that are working with us here.

Saturday evening should be another highlight of the convention. There will be a wonderful banquet, arranged by the Banquet Committee, Howard Hinsey and Jim Shakleford. They are going all-out. We hope to have at least 1,000 people present. There will be a "no-host" pay cocktail hour set up from 6:00-7:00 p.m. for those who wish to attend. The banquet will start promptly at 7:00 p.m., and it will be stream-lined with all business kept to an absolute minimum. We are planning that it will be over by 9:00 p.m. Our Master of Ceremonies will be the very popular West Coast numismatist, Ralph "Curley" Mitchell, and you couldn't have a finer M.C. Shortly after 9:00 p.m. we will take a half hour intermission. During this time the hotel will clear the dinner tables and remake the ballroom into a cabaret-style room with a large dance floor. There will be soft music from 9:30 until midnight, for dancing or just for the pleasure of talking and visiting. The cost of the banquet will be $7.50. Like all banquets, this may seem a little high, but we plan to give this back to you in an excellent, delicious dinner and the music. But best of all, we hope to have a memorable evening for you and your friends.

One of our very important people, who is doing a marvelous job on both program and mint tours, is Matt Klepp. The program was mentioned earlier in a small way, but it must be repeated again. It is a program we are sure you will keep and treasure through years as something outstanding, and as a memento of a wonderful convention you attended in Denver. Matt is also arranging the mint tours. If you wish to tour the Denver Mint — which will be open to the A.N.A. on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday — drop Matt a line c/o 1532 Broadway, Denver 2, and he will list you for the day and time that you wish. For your guidance in planning this tour the tours will begin at 7:45 a.m. daily, and will be repeated hourly with the final tour of the day at 2:45 p.m. You can confirm your tour reservations upon arrival at the convention. The tours will be taken from the hotel to the Mint approximately every 45 minutes, and it is only a 2-block walk from the hotel.

For the ladies, Barbara Rader is in charge of the Hospitality Room. There will be coffee, iced tea, and cookies daily for those who wish them. Of course, you can bring the youngsters too, and even the men will be invited — so long as no business is transacted in this room. While you are waiting for your husband, this will be a very comfortable and convenient place to sit and relax. Also, there will be card tables, cards, etc. available, and with sufficient hostesses in charge that some will be willing to be a "fourth" for bridge, etc. if you need one. If there is anything you wish to know about Denver, the general vicinity, shopping, etc., Barbara or one of her many helpers will be very glad to help.

Our Publicity Chairman, Rudy Weiss, has been very busy for quite some time, as you have read in previous issues of the major publications. His job started early, and it has been chiefly a matter of decision, to figure out just what to put in and when to release it. We certainly appreciate his efforts. He has been tireless, plugging for us at every coin club meeting of every club in the city, working overtime to submit publicity for your guidance, and working with our Denver Convention Center, especially with Bill Brennan. I'm sure you will want to meet Rudy when you are here. He is also our Historian. Our scrapbook is growing by leaps and bounds, as he is keeping a complete history of this convention for us here in Denver.

The last of the regular committees, but certainly not the least, is the Finance Committee, headed by Dave Hart. This is indeed quite a job, trying to figure out ahead of time just how much we will take in and how much we will spend. However, this is upon Dave's capable shoulders and we know it will work out very well. He has a date set to make a new budget with the committees, so by May 20 he will have a much better idea as to just what each committee anticipates in both income and outgo. Dave's is a very important job, handling the purse strings of the convention.

We also have a couple of well known doctors, Dr. Philip Whiteley and Dr. Jim Monsour, working with us. They are both local numismatists who have volunteered their services and they will be on the convention floor as much as possible should anyone need medical attention. We will also have a first aid station, with Mrs. Alice Dudich, a registered nurse, on hand to pass out aspirin, band-aids, and other such items that might be needed from time to time.

Last, but not least, the Co-Chairmen must be mentioned. They are Col. S. H. "Mac" McKinnon, John A. "Jack" Howell, and Jack's assistant, F. B. "Buzz" Shaffer. (Jack is going to be in Europe for five weeks soon, so Buzz will be taking over for him and will work with him upon his return.) These three men are my right hands and are working very closely with both the various committees and me and are doing a magnificent job. They have taken a great deal of the stress and strain off of me.

In addition to these various committee chairmen mentioned, we have a host of other workers and behind-the-scenes helpers, not only from the coin clubs here in Denver but also from other coin clubs throughout Colorado and Wyoming. All have one purpose: To make this, the 72nd annual convention of the American Numismatic Association, one to be long remembered. They want to show you hospitality and fun, as well as our part of the country. They are also working on the primary reason for the convention: The beautiful and educational exhibits you will see, the Educational Forum you will hear, and the bourse, with 101 of the finest dealers of the country participating. Here's hoping that we will see you all in Denver, participating with us in this exciting convention of August 7-10. — DAN BROWN, General Chairman.

New Iranian Banknote. On March 21, 1963, new 500 rial banknotes went into circulation in Iran for the first time. During this year all paper currency of 10, 20 and 50 rials will be withdrawn and coins of the same values placed in circulation.

NEW OR RECENT ISSUES

By

ERNST KRAUS, LM 129

It is the important duty of The Numismatist to record and illustrate new coins. To accomplish this, members in the United States and abroad are invited to submit new issues to Ernst Kraus, Apt A, 1501 E. Mt. Airy Ave., Philadelphia 50, Pa. Coins will be photographed and returned as soon as possible, and a credit line will be given to anyone assisting.

ECUADOR

50 Centavos, 1963. Nickel. Obverse: Arms, date below, legend around: REPUBLICA DEL ECUADOR. Reverse: Value within laurel wreath. Reeded edge. (The above specimen was donated by Dr. Alfred Karger to the A.N.A. collection.)

20 Pennia, 1963. Nickel-brass. Similar, but larger planchet. Reeded edge.

50 Pennia, 1963. Nickel-brass. Similar, still larger planchet. Reeded edge.

The above new values are replacing coins of similar design of the markkaa denomination. (This set of coins has been donated to the A.N.A. collection by Jolie Coins; credit also to Lauren Benson.)

FINLAND

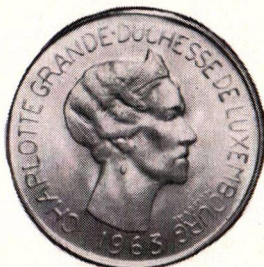

1 Penni, 1963. Bronze. Obverse: St. Hans arms, legend around: SUOMEN TASAVALLA ("Republic of Finland"), date on the bottom. Reverse: Value, numeral 1 between clasped hands design, PENNI on the bottom. Plain edge.

5 Pennia, 1963. Bronze. Similar but larger planchet.

LUXEMBOURG

100 Francs, 1963. Silver. Obverse: Head of ruler, right, legend around: CHARLOTTE GRANDE DUCHESSE DE LUXEMBOURG, date on bottom. Reverse: Arms in center, value below, legend

around: GRAND DUCHE DE LUXEMBOURG. Reeded edge. This coin commemorates the one thousandth year of the founding of the City of Luxembourg. (Chester Kornegay)

PAKISTAN

1 Paisa, 1961. Bronze. Obverse: Toughra below; crescent and star above; legend around: GOVERNMENT OF PAKISTAN. Reverse: Value in center in Urdu: "ek paisa;" Christian date below; value in Bengali on the bottom, value in English on top: 1 PAISA.

A coin of the same date, size and design had value written out as ONE PICE, see Yeoman No. 13. (Jolie Coins, Lauren Benson)

SWEDEN

25 Ore, 1962. Copper-nickel. Obverse: Crowned monogram of King Gustaf VI Adolf, dividing date. Reverse: Value 25 ORE SVERIGE and mint-mark below. Plain edge.

50 Ore, 1962. Copper-nickel. Similar, but larger planchet. Plain edge. (Lauren Benson)

TUNIS

1 Millieme, 1960. Aluminum. Obverse: Tree in center, legend above in Arabic: "The established government of Tunis." Reverse: Numeral 1 between two branches, value written out below. (The above coin has been donated to the A.N.A. collection by Glen H. Reno.)

YEMEN

1 Bogach, 1963. Bronze. Obverse: A hand holding a torch in the center, within circle; legend on top: AL GUMHURIA ARABIA AL YEMENIA ("The Arabic Republic of Yemen"). Moham-medan date on bottom: 1382 AH, year below. Reverse: Value in center, on top: "There is no God but Allah"; on bottom: "Struck at Sana'a 1382 AH." Plain edge.

1 Halalah, 1963. Bronze. Similar but smaller planchet. (Lauren Benson)

NOMINATIONS REPORT

The following have been nominated, prior to May 1, 1963, for A.N.A. offices for the 1963-1965 term. Further nominations may be made by any member, including affiliated clubs prior to May 24, 1963. The final report, including pictures of the candidates and personal data, supplied by them, will appear in the July issue.

Nominations must be sent in writing to the Office of the General Secretary. They will not be acknowledged, but nominees will be notified. Any nominator may submit additional nominations or withdraw any that were made previously if this is done prior to the closing dates as mentioned above. Nominations made near the closing date should be accompanied by written acceptance of the nominee.

Election is by mail ballot only and ballots will be mailed to each member about July 1. They must be returned and received by the official C.P.A. tabulating firm on or before July 24, 1963. They may not be delivered at the convention.

The numbers below the name of each candidate refer to the nominators identified below. Nominators 1-81 were listed in the May issue of The Numismatist, pages 630-631.

Hedge Against Inflation. The misprinted dollar bills which the Atlanta Federal Reserve bank let get through are of course an embarrassment to those responsible. Naturally they'd like to get them back, but many citizens who received the flukes are determined to keep them until their value increases.

In 20 years, perhaps, they may be worth $1, which is more than can be expected of correctly printed currency. — Montgomery (Ala.) Advertiser.

Par Value for Liberian Dollar. An initial par value for the Liberian dollar, at one Liberian dollar per U. S. dollar, has been established by agreement between the Government of Liberia and the International Monetary Fund. Catalogue of the Roman Imperial Coins in the Hunter Coin Cabinet, University of Glasgow, Vol. I, by Anne S. Robertson, 1962, 588 pp., 60 collotypes, Oxford University Press, for the University of Glasgow, Fair Lawn, N. J., cloth bound, $24.00. The Hunter Coin Cabinet is one of the four major coin collections in Britain. Founded by William Hunter in the Eighteenth Century, it is particularly rich in Greek and Roman coins. This first of a projected five volume catalog of Roman coins in the Hunter collection covers coins of the Roman Emperors from Augustus (B. C. 14-A. D. 37) to Nerva (A. D. 96-98). Containing a detailed description of over 1,500 coins illustrated by sixty collotype plates plus about 300 coins of the same period in the Coats collection of the University of Glasgow, the catalog includes many rare or even unique coins of the first century of the Empire. A valuable introduction discusses the significance of the various denominations, issues, coin legends, and designs used by each emperor, and the Mints and styles in which they were produced.

Allen, Vol. III of the "Sylloge of Coins of the British Isles," 1963, Oxford University Press, Amen House, Warwick Sq., London, EC 4, crown quarto, 50 pp., illus., 35 shillings. In two ways, the present volume marks a new departure for the Sylloge. It is the first volume in this series to deal exclusively with the coinage of the ancient Britons, and it represents the first attempt ever made to produce a corpus of the material available from all sources for a particular section of this field. The first part of the volume deals with the coins in the British Museum which belong to this series; the second part covers the coins in other collections, public and private. The introduction reviews the coinage of the Coritani in the light of the hoard evidence, which is set out in detail. In planning this volume the Sylloge Committee has borne in mind the wide range of the interests served by this ancient coinage at the point where numismatic, historical, and archaeological problems meet and react on one another.

Out of print for many years this substantially revised edition retains the objectives of the first edition of 1931 and includes the results of very recent historical research and developments in monetary theory. It combines a history of English coinage and paper currency with enough of the history of the Bank of England and other banks as is necessary to give a complete account of the development of the British monetary system. Three new chapters are: Sterling and the International Gold Standard; The First World War and Its Aftermath 1914-1939; and Epilogue: The Second World War and After. New subjects discussed include: bank amalgamations; market operations in the 1890s; coöperation between the Bank of England and other banks; First World War taxation and borrowing; and the First World War price rise. Other topics are: The Currency and Bank Notes Act of 1928; the Depression; foreign exchanges 1931-39; 1947 sterling devaluation; and The European Payments Union.

Currency Unification in the Congo. Following the end of the secession of South Katanga, an ordinance by President Kasavubu dated January 9, 1963 re-established monetary unity throughout the territory of the Republic of the Congo (Leopoldville), and on February 5, 1963, the Monetary Council of the Republic began a currency conversion in the province. The Katanga franc, which has been the currency in circulation in Katanga since January 1961, is being withdrawn as it is received in banks, post offices, and government offices, and replaced by Congo franc notes of the type used by the Monetary Council, which are legal tender in the entire territory of the Congo.

The conversion operation is being carried out at a ratio of one Katanga franc to one Congo franc. No quantitative limit is imposed on the exchange. Since February 5, all obligations, checks, orders of payment, letters of exchange, and transfers in South Katanga must be denominated in Congo francs. The Katanga franc will, however, continue to circulate and have validity in South Katanga until its complete withdrawal from circulation, the date for which will be set later by the Monetary Council — International Financial News Survey, March 8, 1963.

Comment on "Go Strike Yourself a Medal"

Dear Mr. Bradfield:

With the essay "Go Strike Yourself a Medal" by Walter Zimmermann in the April Numismatist, the road for a serious discussion of the problem of the medal has been cleared. (Here I would like to note that the so-called historic medal has to be out of the discussion. Its function is of pure historical nature and it does not claim artistic significance.) This is quite contrary to what, for instance, Wolfgang von Goethe expected of the medal: Through viewing it the feelings should be ennobled in the same way as though reading a passage from the Bible.

In earlier times one could easily draw an inference from the design of the medals back to the spiritual reserves of an epoch and a people. Not without reason did the Renaissance produce the first great art medals. The decline of art after the Napoleonic period showed itself in the same way in the medals of the thirties to sixties of the last Century, a period that should have created something valuable through the perfection of the raised printing and casting!

And what is the situation today, after the medal art, again starting from France, could have created new ways and means? Of course, there are good medals in several countries as the magazine Médailles des Fédérations des Editeurs de Médailles very often — not always — proves. Furthermore there are societies of friends of the medal, also in the United States, but most publishers of modern medals do not even know these agencies. They work purely commercially and therefore conceal very often the names of the artist and the author. In contrast are national medals that immortalize with just pride the names of the artists that have been consulted. One may find an excuse in the ignorance of many societies, official and private agencies that order such medals.

It is different, however, when numismatic societies place orders without any feeling for the significance of the medal, publish inartistic pieces for conventions or offer them to members of the society and friends. It is amazing and almost tragic to look through the last series of numismatic magazines in this respect.

How would it be, if, in the future, numismatic societies would stop producing general emblems and much too thoughtless repetitions and would instead announce a contest among artists and medalists? Then, perhaps, one of the commercial manufacturers of medals would produce not only technically flawless but artistically justified medals. Collectors would then not be cheated out of good money for bad medals.

The numismatic societies, especially, should take to heart what one of the greatest authorities on medals, Jean Babelon, wrote at the end of his book, La médaille en France: "The medal remains among us as a witness of the past. It is its function, and it is faithful to it, maybe without knowing it, that what makes its value not only now but in the future. We have to know that, imperishable, it will later speak for us."

Alabama Convention July 17-20

The Alabama Numismatic Society will hold its first major convention at the Thomas Jefferson Hotel in Birmingham July 17-20. Dr. Walter B. Jones, Director Emeritus of the Alabama Museum of Natural History, is

Dr. Jones

President of the Society and Mrs. Purnie Moore, P. O. Box 3601, West End, Birmingham, Ala., is Convention Chairman. Mrs. Moore is a member of the Society's Board and a past President of the Birmingham Coin Club. Bourse Chairman Henry J. Tindal, 2833 Cahaba Road, Birmingham 13, is in charge of the fifty bourse tables. The fee of $30 per table includes one ticket to the Saturday evening banquet.

Many choice educational exhibits are expected by Exhibit Chairman Harry Collins, 2900 Thirty-first St., West, Birmingham 8, who announces that the awards presentation will be made at the Saturday evening banquet. Opal and John Morris, Jr., will be Awards Chairmen for the following classes of exhibits: U. S. coins (except gold), paper money, medals, gold coins, foreign coins, and miscellaneous. It is stressed that even one piece that does not come under the exhibit heading will put it in the "miscellaneous" class or disqualify the exhibit for an award. Exhibits must be in cases and may not be removed before Saturday noon. Security will be furnished for the exhibit and bourse areas.

Dr. and Mrs. Fred Downing are in charge of entertainment and have planned a reception Wednesday evening at the Hotel, a tour of the city on Thursday morning, a theater party Thursday evening, and a fashion show Friday morning. Highlights of the convention are expected to be the auction sessions conducted by Jim Kelly of Dayton, Ohio, at eight o'clock Thursday and Friday evenings.

With members throughout the state and in many other states, the Society expects this to be the largest numismatic affair in the South this summer. One of the largest and nicest hotels in Birmingham, the Thomas Jefferson Hotel is located downtown at the corner of Seventeenth St. and Second Ave., North. To assure room accommodations at the convention site, reservations should be made directly with the Hotel as early as possible.

Named to Chase Manhattan Money Museum Staff

Francesco Cantarella has been appointed Director of the Chase Manhattan Bank Money Museum, in charge of administrative work and publicity. Vernon L. Brown, curator, continues in charge of the museum's collection, acquisitions and preparation of exhibits. Cantarella, a member of the bank's public relations department since 1961, was a staff correspondent for the Newark (N. J.) Evening News.

Chester Krause Publishing Canadian Coin Newspaper

Chester L. Krause, publisher of Numismatic News and Coins magazine, has announced plans to introduce a new, exclusively Canadian newspaper, Canada Coin News. The first issue date is set for June 3rd.

Cale B. Jarvis, FRNS, is resident Editor of the paper. He is a prominent Canadian numismatist and former editorial writer for the Toronto Globe and Mail.

The Canadian office is Suite 1109, 62 Richmond St. W., Toronto 1, Ont. Among the features of the new paper will be a price guide of Canadian coins and a special section in French.

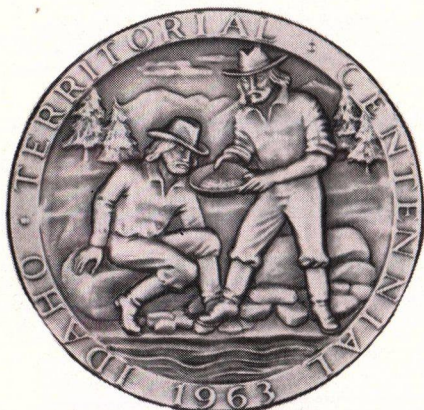

Idaho's Centennial Medal

The official Idaho Territorial Centennial commemorative medal is ready for distribution, according to H. J. Swinney, Director of the Idaho Historical Society. The Society is the official issuing agency for the State of Idaho.

Designed by Sculptor Carl Schmitz of New York City and struck by the Medallic Art Company, the medal is available in 1½" silver and 2½" bronze. The silver issue will be limited to 5,000 numbered pieces, but there will be an unlimited striking of the bronze. Retail prices will be $3.50 for the bronze and $12.50 for the silver, including Federal tax.

The obverse shows a scene of two gold prospectors at the very moment of discovery in typical Idaho mountain scenery. "This design was chosen,"

Idaho medal

Swinney reports, "because the permanent settlement of Idaho resulted almost entirely from gold strikes which began in the fall of 1860." Idaho became a territory March 4, 1863, and has always been a significant mining community.

The reverse is the first seal of the Territory of Idaho. Another design was adopted by the territory several years after its establishment, and a completely new seal was adopted when Idaho became a state in 1890. "However, the seal used for the medal is the very first one, and we feel very fortunate that its designers included the legend 'The Territory of Idaho 1863' in the design, making it ideal for our purposes," Swinney said.

An unusual feature of the silver medal is the source of the metal, special efforts having been made to ensure the use of silver actually mined and smelted in Idaho. As a result of special care, each silver medal is not only serially numbered but is edge-stamped with "1.5 troy ounces pure Idaho silver 999 fine." The Idaho Historical Society is proud of this unusual feature.

Inside Idaho, distribution of the medals has been arranged through the banking system. The Idaho Historical Society, which may be addressed simply in Boise, Idaho, is prepared to handle retail mail orders. Medals will also be offered through bona fide numismatic dealers, but there will be a limit on the number of the silver issue supplied to any one dealer.

Corrections in Japanese Occupation Money Article

Dear Mr. Bradfield:

As a student of Japanese invasion paper money and author of some articles on the subject, I read the first article (Maj. Crummett's "Japanese Occupation Paper Currency") in the April Numismatist eagerly. Frankly, I was quite disappointed.

Furthermore, there were two outstanding errors. The outline under the ten dollar Malaya note stated that the note was for the Philippine occupation forces. This note was specifically issued for use in Malaya and was the primary currency of Malaya during the Japanese occupation of that country.

The text mentions "American dollars - Japanese version." If there is such a thing as a Japanese invasion American dollar, one has yet to be found. I presume the author has reference to the Malayan dollar notes. There is absolutely no connection between the Japanese invasion dollar notes for use in Malaya and the United States dollar. This far-fetched notion has been exploded repeatedly and the belief is held by no serious student or collector.

There are only two possible sources of this misinformation. One is the use of the word "dollar." This obviously means the Malayan dollar since it replaced the Malayan dollar in actual usage. The other misleading factor is the use of the words "promises to pay the bearer on demand." These words were copied directly from the Straits Settlements and Malayan currency which circulated prior to the invasion. Neither the term "dollar" nor the promise to pay has the remotest connection to the United States dollar. In fact, both show a direct connection to the prewar Straits or Malayan dollar. There are absolutely no reasons for calling the Malayan invasion dollars "United States invasion money." This is pure myth which should be laid to rest once and for all.

A number of incontrovertible proofs support the fact that the Japanese invasion dollar currency was issued specifically for use in the area previously served by the Straits dollar. I could enumerate these proofs and would be glad to do so if anyone still seriously believes the U. S. invasion dollar myth. At the same time I could give reasons why the peso notes were not issued for the invasion of Mexico and the shilling notes not intended for the invasion of the British Isles.

Larcenies

Henry Evanson of Spruceland Stamp & Coin Co., 115 State St., Springfield 3, Mass., says his office was burglarized the night of April 10-11. Among the items taken were 1,200 U. S. large cents in poor condition, set of Canadian silver dollars from 1935 to 1962, large quantities of British shillings and farthings cataloged and priced.

The shop of Danny B. Crabb, 13762 Victory Blvd., Van Nuys, Calif., was burglarized April 21 and a large number of U. S. coins from cents to gold pieces were taken, along with some foreign. Among identifiable pieces were a cent of 1921-S "cracked skull" in white plastic holder; 150 pieces of Heraldic Art medals, silver, half dollar size; 1921-D dime with chop mark through "L" of Liberty; 1804 large cent restrike; 1834 $5 gold with solder on reverse; 1801 $20 gold xf, rim repaired; Alaska too-wah.

Coin to Greenback Switch Upholds Old Navy Custom

The old Navy tradition of placing a "coin" under the masts of ships undergoing construction took a new twist aboard USS Wright (CC-2) in placing of a "paper" dollar under a mast prior to its mounting.

Because the mast bases and pedestals were machined to meet certain balance requirements, it was discovered that a coin would not do. Keeping the tradition in mind, however, Wright personnel decided to use the dollar bill.

It is believed that this is a survival of the ancient Roman tradition of placing coins in the mouths of their dead to pay Charon for passage across the river Styx. In the event of a casualty at sea the coins under the masts ensured that passage for everyone was paid.

The dollar bills that will go under the remaining masts will come from Wright's personnel who are placing their money in a contribution box set up especially for that purpose. Above the contribution box is a picture of Neptune, Roman God of the sea, and in the text beneath the picture he straightly "charges" the officers and men of the Wright to contribute.

The ruler of the raging main must have gotten his point across in good fashion because the crew contributed well . . . and a jingle can still be heard as various personnel pass "The Ole Contribution Box." More masts are to be mounted soon on the Wright, so the collection goes on.

[Editor's note: Having read in one of the other coin publications that the practice of placing a coin under the mast of a new ship had been discontinued, George L. Garrison, A.N.A. No. 46099, was startled to see the above story in the March 15, 1963 issue of The Salute, published by the Puget Sound Naval Shipyard, Bremerton, Wash.]

House Votes Silver Buying Act Repeal

On April 10 the House of Representatives voted to repeal the Silver Purchase Act of 1934, thus freeing 1 billion 300 million ounces of Government owned silver. Passage of the legislation, long sought by President John F. Kennedy, came on a roll call vote, 251 to 122. It was opposed by western silver interests and Republicans who feared it might increase the Federal debt. The bill also lifts the ban against the issuance of $1.00 notes by the Federal Reserve and allows the Treasury to discontinue Silver Certificates. The House banking committee wrote the bill.

Royal Bank to Display Items From J. D. Ferguson Collection

What has been described as one of the most important numismatic displays in Canada's history will be opened on May 22 in the banking hall of The Royal Bank of Canada Building in Montreal's Place Ville Marie. It is expected that thousands of collectors from all over North America will view the exhibit. The numismatic material, valued at close to $100,000, is part of the famous collection of J. Douglas Ferguson FRNS of Rock Island, Quebec.

All but one of the eight large display cases will be devoted to bills, coins and tokens relating to the monetary history of Canada. A visitor will be able to trace the development of Canada's paper money and coins from the earliest days to the present. The eighth case will contain historic paper money from various parts of the world. To be included among the many fascinating specimens in this case are bills of the American colonies and an example of the earliest paper money in existence.

One of the panels will illustrate the currency used in the exciting days of the fur trade in Canada. Some extremely beautiful and rare examples of Quebec Indian wampum will be shown, together with a selection of fur trading company tokens and a beaver pelt.

A selection of the very rare card money of the French Regime in Canada will be displayed, along with interesting examples of paper currency and financial documents of the same period. The card money was issued by the Governors and Intendants in New France to alleviate the extreme shortage of currency which plagued the colony.

J. Douglas Ferguson, at l., points out a rare example of French Canadian card money to W. D. H. Gardiner, Assistant General Manager of The Royal Bank of Canada.

Another panel will show rare and colorful paper money issues of the various colonies which joined together to form The Dominion of Canada in 1867. The panels devoted to the Royal Bank bills, Dominion of Canada currency and bills of other Canadian banks will bring back memories of the fascinating variety of folding money which once filled Canadians' wallets. Among the items on the panel devoted to issues of the Royal Bank and absorbed banks will be shown two of the extremely rare issues of The Quebec Bank of 1818 and 1819. This will provide the first opportunity for many collectors to see these historic bills.

A panel devoted to coins and tokens which circulated in Canada will be of absorbing interest to visitors. Examples of countermarked Spanish-American silver, the famous "holey dollar" of Prince Edward Island, jetons, many bank and merchants' tokens, essays and pattern pieces will be included. Of special interest will be specimen sets of Canadian coins, in the original cases, of the years 1870, 1908, 1911 and 1953. Also to be included is an example of the extremely rare "Gloriam Regni" 15 sols silver piece of Louis XIV, issued by the French Government for circulation in Canada. Perhaps the rarest of early Canadian coins, the specimen is in beautiful condition.

Ferguson's name is well known for he is a Past President of the A.N.A. and Honorary President of the C.N.A. His collection is one of the most valuable and extensive in North America and he has rightly been described as the "dean of Canadian numismatists." In making his collection available to the Royal Bank for display he is performing a service to the cause of increased numismatic knowledge in Canada.

The display will be open Mondays through Fridays from 10:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. Every visitor will receive a souvenir token, especially struck in aluminum by the Royal Bank to commemorate this important exhibition.

Men of HMS "Ulster" Receive Mardi Gras Medals

When Her Majesty's Ship Ulster sailed into the Port of New Orleans, it was the first time a British military vessel had called in seven years. It was the Carnival season, the culmination of which ends on Mardi Gras.

The citizenry of the most hospitable big city of the South deluged the men and officers of the Ulster with invitations to grand balls, concerts and private parties. A sterling silver medal which Michael Kirk's Medalarts company issues each year for the Mardi Gras was mounted for display in the ship's ward room. In addition, each officer was given a copy in nickel silver. Enough aluminum strikes for nickel silver only. The 1963 medal was also struck in sterling and aluminum. The obverse of the medal, which is 1 $\frac{1}{8}$ " in diameter, has a figure of Bacchus, god of wine and pleasure, Aphrodite, goddess of love, and Neptune, god of the sea. This is surrounded by the legend, in French, "Joy is the Wine of Life," and MARDI GRAS, 26 FEBRUARY, 1963. On the reverse, as it has been for each of the three years, is the seal of the City of New Orleans. Kenneth F. Reynolds, art director for Medalarts, selected the figures and a French motto because of the occasion, and the fact that New Orleans was founded by France. Available through Michael Kirk, P. O. Box 2595, New Orleans 16, La. The sterling issue is limited to 500, the nickel to the usual 5000 copies. Only 10,000 of the aluminum were struck.

NATIONAL COIN WEEK

National Coin Week, 1963, is over, and it is time to start thinking about suggestions to improve this event for 1964. While this year's event is still fresh in your mind, please give it some thought and answer a few simple questions:

1. What is your impression of National Coin Week?
2. What can be done by your club to increase interest in this event?
3. Were the materials supplied adequate for your club? What other types of material do you think should be available?
4. What do you suggest for a theme for National Coin Week for 1964?
5. Do you think the point system used in determining award winners is fair, or do you think it can be improved?

This information or other suggestions would be of great benefit in planning for this event next year. Please mail to the General Chairman in order that the committee can plan better things for 1964.

Annual Red Book Survey Made

The Whitman Publishing Company has completed another sampling of collectors' opinions and wishes concerning the Guide Book of United States Coins. The results of the survey will serve as a guide for certain changes contemplated for the seventeenth edition of R. S. Yeoman's popular "Red Book."

Questionnaires were sent to thirty-five hundred subscribers, located in all parts of the country, of one of the popular numismatic publications. About one thousand replies were received, although a few did not answer all questions. Besides the answers to questions and comments requested, Whitman considers that the letters and notations received also reveal the attitudes and opinions of typical collectors. Specific questions asked and a summary of replies were as follows:

1. How often do you purchase a copy of the Guide Book? Replies indicated that 829 bought it every year, 111 bought it every other year, and 58 less frequently. Some bought more than one book a year.

2. Please give your opinions of the revisions and prices in the sixteenth edition. Almost everyone commented and most replies were favorable, especially to the moving of mintage figures into the listing and pricing by dates. Some constructive criticisms were offered.

3. Do you find the new grading guide helpful? Is it adequate? Of the 963 answers, only 24 replied "no" to the first part of the question. On the second part, most said it was adequate but some thought that it should be expanded to cover all grades of all series.

4. List changes that you feel would improve the usefulness of the Guide Book. As expected, replies gave personal opinions which were helpful but could not be tabulated easily and did not show general agreement on specific changes desired.

5. Vote on addition of the following items to the book:

	Yes	No
a. 1942-D over horizontal D nickel	228	595
b. 1955-D over S nickel	364	488
c. 1961-D over horizontal D cent	275	576
d. 1867 over small 67 Indian cent	295	524
e. 1905-O dimes with large and small mint marks	292	535
f. 1916 nickel with double obverse die	237	573
g. 1939 nickel with double obverse die	263	545
h. 1878 silver dollar with reverse of 1879 (slanting arrow feathers)	267	519
i. 1879-S silver dollar with reverse of 1878 (parallel arrow feathers)	266	519
j. 1880-CC silver dollar with reverse of 1878 (parallel arrow feathers)	269	510
k. 1900-O silver dollar with O over CC	371	427

As a result of this voting, Whitman does not plan to add any of these items to the seventeenth edition of the "Red Book."

6. List coins that you feel should be taken out of the book. There were 307 votes to remove the 1892-O micro O half dollar, against 247 votes to retain it. Others mentioned in fewer replies were the 1937-D three legged buffalo nickel, 1955 double die cent, 1942 over 41 dime, 1938-D over S nickel, and the 1945-S micro S dime.

To the seventh question, 588 (60%) indicated membership in some numismatic organization and 384 (40%) replied that they were not. Several of the smaller group indicated an intention to join a coin club or having already applied for membership.

Two specific comments seem to sum up the many received with the questionnaires returned: "The sixteenth edition was far better than the fifteenth; keep up the good work" and "The Guide Book does all that it was designed to do and more."

Obituaries

HERBERT A. BRAND, A.N.A. NO. 1536

Herbert A. Brand of Miami, Fla., died from a stroke Nov. 2, 1962, after seemingly well on the way to recovery from surgery performed several months earlier. Born in Cincinnati, Ohio, November 20, 1890, he resided in that city until he moved to Miami about 1950. His widow Ida survives.

Brand joined the A.N.A. in February, 1912, as No. 1536 and was proud of the fact that he was a continuous member thereafter. This record entitled him to the silver 25 year medal when it was inaugurated in 1949. He received the gold 50 year membership medal at the 1961 Atlanta convention. He served one term on the Board of Governors of the A.N.A. in 1930-31. Brand became interested in numismatics through Farran Zerbe and, like the great numismatic scholar, spread the science of numismatics by organizing many numismatic clubs and associations.

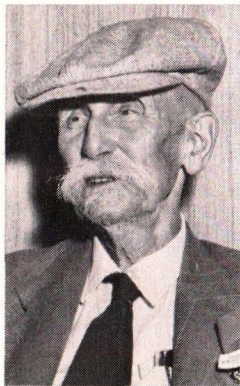

Pioneering coin collecting in the Boy Scouts of America, Brand was keenly interested in every facet of his avocation. He wrote many articles on numismatics, covering various subjects. He made it a point to "keep in touch" with many of our senior members and reported on their well being. The fraternity has lost a staunch supporter of the older school of numismatists. — JWO

HENRY E. LUHRS, A.N.A. NO. 3991

Henry E. Luhrs passed away at his home in Shippensburg, Pa., on December 16, 1962, due to a heart attack. Born June 8, 1901, he was an officer of the Beistle Co., manufacturers of paper products. He was founder of Lincoln Publishers and Lincoln Library of Shippensburg, and had planned to place his collection of coins and medals on display in the library upon retirement. A long-time member of the A.N.A., having joined in 1931, he received the 25 year continuous membership award at the 1956 A.N.A. Chicago convention. — JWO

HIRAM E. DEATS, A.N.A. HONORARY AND CHARTER MEMBER

The last remaining charter member of the American Numismatic Association, Hiram Edmund Deats of Flemington, N. J., died March 16, 1963, at the age of 92 after a tenure of over 71 years. He was also a charter and senior member of the American Philatelic Society.

Hiram Deats*

Deats, born in May, 1870, was No. 36 of Doctor Heath's little band of sixty-one stalwarts who organized the A.N.A. on October 7, 1891. Only two others of this group enjoyed the longevity of Deats, John F. Jones of Jamestown, N. Y., and R. D. Hay of Winston-Salem, N. C.

Deats served on the first Board of Trustees of the organization four terms, from 1891 to 1894. When the A.N.A. was re-organized in 1899 he became member No. 15, a number he retained until he was presented Life Membership No. 65 at the 1942 convention. This was tendered for his long and faithful membership in the organization. He received the gold 50 year membership award upon its establishment in 1948 and was made an honorary member at the 1962 Detroit Convention.

The name of Hiram Deats was well known in philatelic circles also. He served as President of the A.P.S. in 1904-05. He was also a historian, genealogist and active in community affairs. He was foreman of the grand jury that indicted Bruno Hauptman for the kidnaping of the Lindbergh baby.

Due to poor health, Deats was inactive in numismatics in recent years. The A.N.A. extends condolences to his two daughters, Mrs. Fred Abegg and Mrs. Ralph Price, and son, Charles T. It mourns the loss of its charter and senior member. — JWO

DILLON ON PROPOSED SILVER LEGISLATION

In his appearance before the U. S. Senate Banking and Currency Committee hearing on the proposed silver legislation (H. R. 5389), Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon gave the following statement:

The main purpose of H. R. 5389 is to provide adequate supplies of silver to meet the coinage needs of the United States and to repeal certain obsolete silver legislation. This bill implements recommendations made by the President in his January Economic Report to the Congress. H. R. 5389 was reported out by the House Banking and Currency Committee by a vote of 18-1 with one abstention and was approved by the House of Representatives, with bipartisan support, by a substantial majority. It incorporates desirable amendments made in the House Committees which eliminated features in the original Administration bill, which some found controversial, and it is my hope that your Committee will see fit to adopt the bill as amended in the House of Representatives.

The key provision of this bill is Section 3, which amends the Federal Reserve Act to authorize the issuance of Federal Reserve notes in denominations of $1 and $2. This will make it possible for the Treasury gradually to retire $1 Silver Certificates, thereby making available for our coinage requirements the silver bullion presently held as backing for these Silver Certificates. As the Silver Certificates are retired, the needs of the country for $1 bills can be met by issuing $1 Federal Reserve notes.

We presently hold 1,300,000,000 ounces of silver as backing for $1 certificates. This plus the 285,000,000 ounces remaining as backing for Silver Certificates in denominations of $5 and above, which are now being retired, and the approximately 30 million ounces of free silver will assure an adequate supply of silver to meet our coinage needs for the next ten to twenty years.

If Section 3 of the bill were not enacted, we would be unable to retire $1 Silver Certificates for the purposes I have indicated, because we presently have no alternative form of currency which could be issued in $1 denominations in amounts adequate to meet the public needs. This would necessitate our going into the market in the very near future in competition with industrial users of silver to obtain the necessary supplies of silver for our coinage. Based upon our present estimates of coinage requirements and of the additional amounts of silver that present law requires as backing for the expected increase in the amount of currency which will need to be issued in $1 denominations, our present stocks of silver available for this purpose will run out some time in 1965. This underlines the urgent need for action by the Congress this year to assure an adequate source of supply of silver for coinage.

The remaining provisions of the bill, Sections 1 and 2 of Title I and Title II, would bring our silver legislation more in line with our needs for silver for coinage and with the significant changes which have occurred in the silver demand and supply situation since 1934, when the enactment of the existing silver legislation commenced. In the House consideration of the bill, there appeared to be no opposition to the provisions of Sections 1 and 2 of Title I or to Title II.

Section 1 repeals the Silver Purchase Act of 1934 and the acts of July 6, 1939, and July 31, 1946. In summary, the provisions of these statutes presently in effect require the purchase of any newly mined domestic silver that may be offered at 90½ cents an ounce, permit the purchase of foreign silver, and permit the sale of silver by the Treasury at not less than 90½ cents an ounce. In addition, a number of subsidiary provisions of these same three statutes are repealed by this bill.

Section 2 retains the present law which requires the Secretary of the Treasury to keep within the United States an amount of silver of a monetary value equal to the face amount of all outstanding Silver Certificates. It limits his power to dispose of any silver to the public at a price lower than its monetary value, which is $1.29-plus per ounce. When the price is under that level, he may use silver only for sale to other departments and agencies of the Government or for coinage.

At the $1.29-plus monetary value, he may supply silver to the market in exchange for such Silver Certificates as may be presented for exchange, since Silver Certificates will continue to be exchangeable for silver dollars or, at the option of the Secretary, for silver bullion of equivalent monetary value.

Title II repeals the silver transfer tax which was needed only because of the provisions calling for the purchase of silver by the Government. Since these provisions are being repealed by Section 1 of the bill, the silver tax should also be repealed at the same time.

For many years now silver has not served any major purpose as a monetary reserve metal. While it has been held as a reserve behind outstanding Silver Certificates, the amount of these in relation to total currency in circulation is small. (There are approximately $2 billion in Silver Certificates in circulation, of which approximately $1.5 billion are in $1 certificates, compared with over $30 billion in Federal Reserve notes. As of February 28, 1963, Federal Reserve notes in circulation amounted to $29.2 billion and Silver Certificates, $1.8 billion. However, the amount of currency in circulation fluctuates seasonally and the figures given are considered to be more representative for this year.) Our basic currency is the Federal Reserve note which is backed by 100 per cent collateral, 25 per cent in the form of gold.

Recent years have seen a sharply increasing worldwide demand for silver for industrial, professional, and artistic uses. This is in marked contrast to the situation existing in 1934 when the Silver Purchase Act was passed and in subsequent years up to about 1959.

In those days it was necessary for the Government to support the price for newly mined domestic silver by taking it off the market at an artificially high price. The 1939 act established a floor price of about 71 cents per ounce. The 1946 act raised the floor price to 90.5 cents. Since November, 1961, when the Treasury stopped selling silver, market forces have caused the price to rise to its present level of $1.27½.

Thus the purchase acts are inoperative, and indeed the silver producing industry has no further need for Government assistance. Since late 1961 the producers have seen a spectacular increase in the price of their product, amounting to forty per cent, and the present $1.27½ price compares to about 45 cents when the 1934 law was enacted.

While this increase in price has benefited the producers, the recent rapid rise has created difficulties for the users. The silverware, jewelry, and other silver using industries have had to cope as best they could with these increased costs. The legislation we have proposed will presumably result in stabilizing the market price at somewhere close to $1.29, a price that is favorable for the producers.

At the same time it will benefit the user industries by giving them the much needed assurance of a relatively stable price level. Thus, today is the appropriate time for repealing the silver legislation to which I have referred and taking the Government out of the silver business except as a consumer in the manufacture of its coins.

Today, current world production of silver is not sufficient to meet current coinage and industrial demands. Annual Free World production of newly mined silver amounts to about 200 million ounces, and total consumption is around 350 million ounces, including both industrial and coinage uses.

Growth in Industrial Uses

Free World industrial consumption of silver (exclusive of coinage) has increased over eighty per cent during the last fourteen years. In 1949, it amounted to 132.5 million ounces and in 1962 it was 239.3 million ounces. Exclusive of the United States, Free World industrial consumption rose from 44.5 million ounces in 1949 to a current level of about 130 million ounces.

In 1933, when the first Presidential proclamation taking newly mined domestic silver off the market was issued, U. S. industrial consumption amounted to only 10.8 million ounces. During the eight-year period from 1933 through 1940, annual average industrial consumption in the United States was 23 million ounces. In 1941, at the start of the war, it jumped to 72.4 million ounces and then to 107 million ounces during the war period 1941 through 1945. Consumption in the United States since the war has been up and down from a low of 85.5 million ounces to a high of 110 million ounces. In 1961 it was 105.5 million ounces and in 1962, 110 million ounces.

There is no end use breakdown of world industrial consumption. In the United States there are no statistics compiled either by industry or by the Government on the end use of silver since it is difficult for the seller to identify the final use of silver.

The current situation regarding domestic production and consumption is: Annual newly mined production runs around 35 million ounces, and net industrial consumption amounts to a little over 100 million ounces—about three times our current production. The excess over and above domestic production must be imported. In addition, our coinage requirements last year ran about 75 million ounces. Of our production, about sixty per cent comes as a by-product of copper, lead and zinc production. The remaining forty per cent comes from mines in which silver is the primary product.

Retirement of Silver Certificates

Since November 29, 1961, we have been retiring the $5 and $10 Silver Certificates, replacing them with Federal Reserve notes and utilizing the silver so released for the coinage of subsidiary coins. But this supply is limited. Coinage requirements appear to be increasing each year, partly at least as a result of the ever-growing use of vending machines. Last year they amounted to about 75 million ounces.

In addition, our increasing population leads to a steady growth in the number of $1 bills required for circulation. Since at present $1 bills in needed quantities can only be issued in the form of Silver Certificates, this leads to a further annual requirement for silver, which last year amounted to $49 million, or roughly 38 million ounces.

Thus in 1962 about 113 million ounces of silver were required to meet our coinage requirements and the increase in $1 bills. This means that at current rates the 285 million ounces of silver presently available behind our dwindling supply of $5 and $10 Silver Certificates will be exhausted some time during 1965. (We cannot expect to receive all of these for retirement.)

When a used $5 Silver Certificate is turned in, it is retired, thus freeing the silver behind it for use in coinage. Whenever an additional $5 bill is needed in the currency, it is called for by the banking system from the Federal Reserve and a new $5 Federal Reserve note is issued.*

However, at present, the Federal Reserve Banks are not authorized to issue $1 notes and, therefore, there is no such replacement available if $1 Silver Certificates were to be retired. Thus, it is vitally important that Congress authorize the issuance of $1 Federal Reserve notes so as to provide in an orderly way for handling of our future needs for coinage and $1 bills.

The withdrawal of Silver Certificates and the use of silver back of them for coinage will be gradual. We estimate that not over $105 million of Silver Certificates a year will need to be redeemed in order to obtain the silver needed for coinage. Today, including the 30 million ounces of free silver and the silver back of Silver Certificates, we have just over 1,600,000,000 ounces that could be used for coinage. Of this amount, over 1,300,000,000 ounces stand in back of the $1 Silver Certificates.

Outside of the possible redemption of Silver Certificates by the public, the only demand for silver from Treasury stocks, other than coinage, would be silver needed by other Government agencies. We have 30 million ounces of free silver which can be used for this purpose without retiring Silver Certificates. This should be sufficient to satisfy the demands of other Government agencies, particularly the defense establishment for the manufacture of certain equipment, for the next few years.

Effect of Issuance of Federal Reserve Notes

In view of the fact that Silver Certificates are a circulating medium, it must be assumed that Federal Reserve notes will have to be issued in their place as they are retired. These are issued by the Federal Reserve, not the Treasury.

The business community, through the commercial banks, will obtain $1 Federal Reserve notes in the same manner as other Federal Reserve notes are obtained today. There are only $2 billion in Silver Certificates in circulation, whereas there are over $30 billion of Federal Reserve notes. There is no problem involved in substituting Federal Reserve notes for Silver Certificates.

The retirement of Silver Certifi-

*Editor's note: Dr. Walter Spahr, noted monetary economist, said recently in Monetary Notes, May 1, 1963, that "The proposal to retire Silver Certificates to make the silver reserve available for silver coinage and to substitute Federal Reserve notes for Silver Certificates would have the effect of adding to the burden of paper money now resting upon the gold certificate reserves of Federal Reserve banks. Silver Certificates are at least redeemable domestically in standard silver. Federal Reserve notes are not redeemable domestically; but, insofar as such notes fall into the hands of foreign and international institutions which can demand redemption in gold, the burden on our gold reserves would be increased. The move toward more and more irredeemable paper money in this country is persistent."

cates and their subsequent replacement with Federal Reserve notes will require the use of gold as a reserve back of these notes. However, the twenty-five per cent gold reserve needed for this purpose should not exceed $35 to $40 million annually. This gold will come from our existing stocks of free gold. Thus, there will be no depreciation of the reserve standing behind presently outstanding Federal Reserve notes, and the new $1 Federal Reserve notes will have exactly the same types of reserves behind them as Federal Reserve notes of other denominations.

While H. R. 5389 also provides for the issuance of Federal Reserve notes in $2 denominations, this is primarily for the purpose of putting on the law books authority to issue Federal Reserve notes in any of the denominations in which we now have currency. This authority will not release any silver for coinage because except for a very small amount of the old large size bills, all of the $2 bills now in circulation are United States Notes. Since we are required to maintain in circulation a specified amount of United States Notes, it will probably prove convenient to continue to use the United States Note authority to supply all of the country's needs for $2 bills.

If the $1 Federal Reserve note is not authorized, the Treasury will soon be forced into the untenable position of entering the market to buy silver for its coinage needs. Since United States production is less than our industrial requirements, silver for coinage would have to be acquired from abroad, thus increasing the strain on our balance of payments. Assuming it were necessary to buy the estimated 75 million ounces needed yearly for coinage—and assuming this could be purchased at the monetary value of $1.29-plus an ounce—the annual rate of drain on our balance of payments would be $97 million.

But silver for coinage could not for long be bought abroad at its monetary value of $1.29-plus. Such purchases would drive the price of silver up to its monetary value and beyond. This would increase the balance of payments drain. In addition, it would become profitable for the public to turn in $1 Silver Certificates, to obtain the silver standing behind them. While this would tend to reduce the balance of payments drain, it would at the same time lead to the gradual but certain withdrawal of all $1 bills from circulation.

At a price of $1.38 per ounce for silver, the public would find it profitable to melt down half dollars, quarters, and dimes for their silver content. We simply cannot allow such a situation to develop.

Obviously the public must have an adequate supply of $1 bills which is not subject to constant shrinkage as bills are turned in for their silver value. And it must have a supply of subsidiary coins which are not constantly being melted down for their silver content.

This legislation provides, in the most appropriate and practical way a supply of silver for coinage without drying up the supply of $1 bills. We wish to continue the use of silver in the coinage system, but for this to be practicable it must be possible to use the silver standing behind all Silver Certificates, including $1 bills.

Repeal of Existing Silver Legislation

As I have pointed out, events have long since made obsolete our existing silver legislation, the Silver Purchase Act of 1934 and the Acts of July 6, 1939, and July 31, 1946. The market price for silver has gone far above the floor prices fixed by the 1939 and 1946 Acts. The authority in the Silver Purchase Act of 1934 has not been used since 1942. There have been no sales to industry under the 1946 Act since November 1961, when the President stopped sales because our stocks of free silver were nearly exhausted. It is high time that this obsolete and inoperative legislation is repealed. The repeal will not result in a demonetization of silver, as has been claimed. Silver was demonetized in 1900, when we went on the gold standard. We will continue to use silver in our monetary system, but only in the form of coins, instead of as backing for paper money.

Misconceptions About the Bill

I would like at this point to put to rest some misconceptions about this bill which became apparent in the course of its consideration on the floor of the House. First, the ultimate replacement of Silver Certificates with Federal Reserve notes does not in any way debase our currency. The value of Silver Certificates has never depended upon the silver backing for them. The value of these certificates, as well as that of all other currency of the United States, has depended upon the fiscal and financial integrity of the Government. At no time since 1934 has the market value of the silver behind Silver Certificates equalled its monetary value of $1.29-plus per ounce. In fact, it has generally been far below that figure. As an example, in 1940, when silver had an average market value of under 35 cents per ounce, the 77/100 ounce of silver behind each $1 Silver Certificate was worth just about 27 cents.

Secondly, enactment of this bill is not a step toward devaluation of the dollar. The President on a number of occasions has emphasized that we have absolutely no intention of devaluing the dollar. It is the view of this Administration that such a step would be extremely harmful to the United States, and to the rest of the Free World, in view of the dollar's position as the leading reserve currency of the world. Moreover, there is absolutely no connection between the action proposed in this bill and the question of devaluation. The international exchange value of the dollar is maintained through our policy of standing ready to settle our international accounts with foreign governments and central banks through the purchase and sale of gold, the only internationally accepted monetary metal for this purpose, at its monetary value of $35 per ounce. Action with regard to the use of silver in our monetary system does not affect in any way the exchange value of the dollar.

The claim has been made that in using silver now backing Silver Certificates we would be selling off a capital asset to finance the budget. There is absolutely no validity to this claim. The net effect of the operations permitted by this legislation will be the purchase of Silver Certificates with subsidiary silver coin manufactured from the silver bullion standing behind such certificates. We will derive no budgetary gain from this except for a small profit resulting from the fact that by law the silver behind Silver Certificates is valued at $1.29-plus per ounce and, when used in manufacturing subsidiary silver coins, at $1.38 per ounce. The silver now standing behind the certificates is presently subject to claim by every one of us with a Silver Certificate in his pocket. If this bill passes, the only change will be that this silver will also become available to put into our pockets in the form of coins as they are needed. There is no question here of selling off an asset of the Government.

Silver dollars will not vanish from circulation. We have a stock at present of about $81 million which will be issued as required. If and when more are needed, they will be minted. The provision in the present bill authorizing the Secretary of the Treasury at his option to redeem Silver Certificates by paying out silver bullion is solely to avoid the wasteful expense of redeeming such certificates in silver dollars when the persons presenting them for redemption desire the silver for industrial uses. It would obviously be foolish for the Government to mint silver dollars just so that they could be melted down as soon as they were received in redemption of Silver Certificates.

Incidentally, the Government has no hidden stockpile of silver other than the silver indicated as being in the monetary and free stocks of the Treasury. A certain amount of silver, 64.7 million ounces, is presently on loan to the Atomic Energy Commission for nonconsumption uses, but this silver is part of our silver stocks which are included in the present backing for Silver Certificates. Thus, it is not an extra amount of silver available to meet our coinage needs.

There are many interests involved in silver, most of them apparently conflicting. We believe this bill is fair to all. It provides a suitable means for the Government to obtain its silver requirements for coinage, the most important item in this bill. It permits silver, from the point of view of the producers, to rise to the level of its monetary value of $1.29-plus per ounce, if market forces carry it that high, without interference from Government sales to the public at a lower price.

It will presumably create an effective ceiling of approximately $1.29 an ounce by the provision that Silver Certificates shall be redeemable for silver dollars or the equivalent in bullion, which should assure the silver users that the price will not rise much beyond its present market price for a long time to come. It repeals the fifty per cent silver transfer tax prospectively. This tax remains applicable only to transfers of silver bullion made prior to the date of enactment.

It does not in any way debase or weaken the currency of the United States: The Federal Reserve notes which will replace the Silver Certificates in circulation have been our basic circulating medium for many years; they are a sound and time-tested form of currency; they must be backed by one hundred per cent collateral, of which twenty-five per cent is in gold.

We shall continue to have this sound and highly satisfactory form of currency, the Federal Reserve note. The only difference will be that instead of having approximately $30 billion in Federal Reserve notes and $2 billion in Silver Certificates, we shall eventually have the entire amount in Federal Reserve notes.

FOR THE GOOD OF NUMISMATICS AND THE A.N.A.

FRIENDS VS. OFFICERS

Would you assume that everyone who appreciates good food should strive to be a master chef? Or that just anyone who knows and enjoys coins is qualified to become a bank president or director? Most likely your answers are in the negative. Yet organization publications frequently carry statements similar to the following: "Everyone is urged to vote for our fellow members, Joe Smith and John Roe, in the A.N.A. election, and for anyone else from our group who may be nominated later."

Loyalty to our friends and fellow members is commendable, of course, but being a lodge brother or friend does not, in itself, qualify a candidate to be a good A.N.A. officer. The six members who will be elected to the Board in August, together with the three elected officers who are ex officio Board members, will manage the Association during the following two years. They will have wide powers to influence its income and regulate the expenditure of some quarter of a million dollars each year. These dollars will come from your pockets and mine. We expect them to be spent and know that we will not get cash dividends in return, but we do want dividends in the form of services and a continuing sound organization.

We want a good magazine each month; a library that will serve our needs for research and information; visual education material for the use of member clubs; an annual convention where we can associate with fellow numismatists, see outstanding exhibits, and acquire numismatic knowledge and items for our collections; judicious use of any income in excess of operating expenses; and enhancement of the Association's prestige.

Names of nominees for the nine elective offices have been published in three issues of The Numismatist, together with identification of the nominator clubs. In the July issue there will be a biographic sketch of each candidate whose name appears on the ballots. Before voting consider carefully the data on each candidate, with special emphasis on his qualifications for holding the office he seeks. What experience has he had in offices of local, state and regional organizations? What numismatic accomplishments are indicated? Has he held committee or other A.N.A. positions in the past?

Nothing in the foregoing is intended to allude to any particular candidate, or to favor any one over any other in a personal way. Actually, it was written before all nominations were known to the author. It has only one purpose — to encourage voters to elect candidates who seem to be best qualified to hold offices in this Association. Every member is urged to vote, but only after careful consideration for the good of numismatics and the A.N.A.

Currency Exchange in Guinea. The Government of Guinea decided on March 10 to undertake a currency exchange. By Presidential decree, the Banque de la République de Guinée was authorized to exchange, not later than March 14, the Guinea franc, in circulation since March 1, 1960, for a new currency at par. The new banknotes are in denominations of 1,000, 500, 100, and 50 francs. All bank accounts were frozen and the country's borders closed during the exchange. All Guinea francs held abroad are declared null and void after March 14. According to the Guinean authorities, this currency exchange has been decided upon to combat currency trafficking and the circulation of counterfeit money.

A PRICE RIOT OF YESTERYEAR

THERE are many mediums through which a story or situation can be perceived, yet how many of us think of a metallic disc as achieving this? The token pictured here is full of English history and tells an interesting incident, yet some background is needed to understand the mottoes and symbols.

One of the many intriguing aspects of token collecting lies in the detective work sometimes involved in tracing the origin, the motto, or the purpose. Most numismatists have medals or tokens in their collections that fascinate them, yet of which they know nothing. With the field of tokens more or less in the nascent stage of numismatics, it would be ideal if we could trace the history and purpose of our uncommon pieces and pass this knowledge on to others. Thus, I would like to share the information I have found on one of the three O. P. Riot tokens.

We must travel to London, England and turn back the clock to September 8 in 1809 when the popular Old Covent Garden Theater was restored after being destroyed by fire in 1808. John Philip Kemble, an English tragedian, was manager of the theater, having successfully managed the Drury Lane Theater previously. The new arrangement of the theater after restoration featured luxurious private boxes complete with private staircases, exclusive lobbies, and exquisite furnishings. In order to make these extraordinary accommodations for the nobility, the comfort of the masses was considerably diminished. One section was reduced to a little better than a row of pigeon holes.

The crowning blow came, however, with the increase in prices for admittance. The pit was raised from three shillings six pence to four shillings and the boxes from six to seven shillings. Naturally, the management considered this price increase necessary to cover the rebuilding expense. The public, however, was not satisfied with this explanation. They believed Kemble to be catering to the rich.

Re-opening night found Kemble playing the part of Macbeth. He was instantly greeted with hisses, yells, and groans. These increased until he was driven from the stage. The next evening the riot continued with even greater fury and so on each night until Kemble realized he must act.

He hired professional fighters and police officers, stationing them in appropriate places in the theater, but this proved no deterrent to the people as they continued their disapproval. Many fights occurred, people were carried home disabled, and the fighters and officers were driven from the building.

The following night the theater was filled with placards inscribed: "No Private Boxes with Sofas," "No Crim-Con Boxes," "Death to the Police Officers," "Old Prices?" "A Row for Our Rights for Forty Nights," etc.

Riot token

The leader of the riot was a barrister named Clifford.

On September 14, Kemble gave up the contest and gave a public dinner at the Crown and Anchor Hotel. The "old prices" were restored. The box keeper, a Mr. Brandon, was discharged and Kemble apologized for hiring the professional fighters and the police officers.

The obverse of this token bears Kemble's bust wearing a fool's cap with a trumpet on the left and a watchman's rattle on the right. The legend, "Oh My Head Aitches" and "Obstinacy," now is clear. The reverse bears two large letters "O P" in the center which immediately mean "Old Prices." The legend above — JOHN BULL'S JUBILEE — alludes to King George's fiftieth year of reign celebration and the bottom legend, CLIFFORD FOREVER, is the hero. — VIRGINIA CULVER, A.N.A. No. 39457.

ODD AND CURIOUS MONEY: AN OUTLINE

By

ERNEST F. COOKE, A.N.A. No. 30318

STUDYING and collecting that field of numismatics called "Odd and Curious" is a fascinating pastime but it presents problems to the beginner because is seems complicated. Actually the subject is not difficult and all that is needed is some means of classifying the vast amount of numismatic material. This simple outline of odd and curious money of the world should help the beginner familiarize himself with this field.

DEFINITIONS

Odd and curious money can be defined as that media of exchange which does not meet our current concept of coins and paper money. This definition evolves from the pertinent dictionary definitions of "odd" and "curious" which are:

Odd: Unusual; singular; strange.

Curious: Exciting attention or inquiry; rare; strange.

Strange which appears in both definitions has two applicable definitions:

1. Extraordinary, as in size, quantity, etc.; hence, unnatural; queer.
2. Not before known, heard or seen; new; unfamiliar.

Thus, numismatically, odd and curious money is defined as that money which is unusual or strange in so far as our concept of coins and paper money is concerned.

THE OUTLINE

Odd and curious money can be divided into five main categories:

1. Commodity Money.
2. Money of Primitive Societies.
3. Money of Advanced Societies.
4. Emergency Money.
5. Different Money.

In the long history of money we find many instances where a society developed money in the order noted for the first three categories but this was not always the case and use is made here of these five categories as a convenient and arbitrary method of classifying odd and curious money.

EXPLANATION OF EACH CATEGORY

Commodity Money

Commodity money was certainly the first money, and at the same time it is a form of money which is found throughout all time and all societies, primitive or advanced. Before money was ever invented there was trade by barter and the commodities traded or bartered soon acquired certain fixed values. A cow might be the purchase price for a wife in certain primitive societies and in this way commodity money, the forerunner of other forms of money, was born.

Commodity money did not cease to exist when other forms of money were developed. For example, salt has long been a medium of exchange in Sierra Leone, West Africa, with twelve containers the standard purchase price of a wife. (Roman soldiers were often paid in salt and the word, salary, is derived from the Latin, salarium, which means salt rations.)

Incidentally, it is interesting to note that many forms of commodity and primitive money are equated to the purchase price of a wife. This does not always mean that an actual purchase was indicated. Daughters were considered a liability and prospective husbands were required to help compensate the parents for the trouble involved in raising them.

Money of Primitive Societies

Primitive money is the money used by a society in its early stages and it can be subdivided into:

- a. Teeth, bone, tusks and claws.
- b. Shells, beads, stone and clay.
- c. Weapons, tools, rings and metal money.
- d. Other materials.

Money of Advanced Societies

The principal difference in this outline between the money of primitive and advanced societies is in the ability to write. As a culture or civilization learned to write, the money they manufactured became more sophisticated and should be considered separately from primitive money. Examples of the money of an advanced society are the spade, knife, pants or dress, bridge, key and bell money of the ancient Chinese.

Emergency Money

Emergency money was used temporarily by people who had known or used regular money and can be subdivided into:

- a. Siege money.
- b. Necessity or inflation money.
- c. Counterstamped coins.

Quite a bit of emergency money looks like regular money and since it is not odd or curious it is not considered in this outline.

Different Money

Money in this category differs slightly from our concept of coins in one or more of the following ways:

- a. Not round.
- b. Holed.
- c. Not metal.
- d. Odd size.
- e. Money tree (a special case).

RULES FOR USING THIS OUTLINE

There are many odd and curious pieces which fit into more than one category. For example, the German porcelain coins of 1921-22 are an inflation issue and would be included with the fourth category, Emergency Money, but they are not made of metal which would put them in the fifth category, Different Money. In this outline they will be put into the fourth category and the rule for classifying odd and curious money will be to put the piece in the first category to which it applies.

Just as Western civilization can trace its heritage back to the Greeks and Romans so can it find the source of its coins. Due to the influence of Western ideas and commerce over the world during the last few centuries the money of other modern societies has come to resemble ours. The odd and curious money which deviates slightly from what is expected through this Greek and Roman heritage will be placed in the fifth category, Different Money.

The various subdivisions of the first three categories can be further divided according to the area in which they were used. The following divisions are suggested:

Asiatic African
South Seas
European American

This would be helpful, for example, in considering the many different types of shell money which is found throughout the world.

EXAMPLES OF EACH TYPE

Commodity Money

This form of money includes salt, grain, animals, slaves, leather, rubber, wood, coal, glass and such cloth as cotton, linen, silk and velvet. The Chase Manhattan Bank Museum of Moneys of the World has in its exhibit the following items which are classed as Commodity Money: Tobacco, Virginia Colony and South Seas; amber money of the Baltic; soap, Mexico; grass mats, South Seas; silk, Mongolia; cotton cloth money of the Congo; beaver and coon skins, American Northwest; whiskey, part of pay, U. S. railroad building; musket balls and flints, U.S. Colonial; bread money of Alaska; chocolate disc currency of Mexico and split wood containers of salt, Sierra Leone, West Africa.

It is interesting to observe the development of leather currency as an example of the stages in the history of money. Various animal skins were used as money in several early societies. This sometimes led to the use of leather and then stamped leather as currency. In the American Northwest where beaver skins were used as money this went one step further when about 1857 the Hudson Bay Co. issued tokens which had a value of one or a fraction of one beaver skin. These tokens are listed as Breton Numbers 926 to 929 or Charlton Numbers 178 to 181. Thus we see in different societies the use of one combination or another of animal skins or leather or stamped leather or a coin valued in animal skins as money.

Money of Primitive Societies

TEETH, BONE, TUSKS AND CLAWS

Teeth from whales, dogs, porpoises, foxes, walruses, elephants, hippos and other animals have been used as money. Other forms of money in this subdivision include such pieces as tiger claws, India; elephant tusks, Ethiopia; and boar tusks, New Guinea.

SHELLS, BEADS, STONE AND CLAY

Shell money of one type or another has been used in many parts of Africa, America and Asia. Examples are cowrie shells, South Seas; white shell rings, Solomon Islands; clam shells, California Indians and turtle or tortoise shells in New Guinea. Beads were frequently made from shells, American Indian wampum being a familiar example.

Cowrie shells had such an influence as a currency on the early Chinese that they manufactured money in imitation of cowrie shells in metal, clay, stone, jade, bone and mother-of-pearl.

The best example of stone money is found on Yap in the Caroline Islands. It resembles a millstone with a center hole and varies in size from about three inches to ten feet in diameter.

WEAPONS, TOOLS, RINGS AND METAL MONEY

Arrowheads and spear points were used as money in Japan, Belgian Congo and the Cameroons. Other examples include the ceremonial axe money of the Belgian Congo and the fish hook money of the Hudson Bay Eskimos.

When primitive man first started to use metal as money he frequently made it in a shape that could be easily carried on the person such as rings that could be worn about on the arms, around the neck or carried on a string. The Bible mentions this form of money when it says, "they weighed out rings of gold and silver." Examples are the ring money of the Celts; iron coiled arm ring money of the Belgian Congo; ancient copper ring money of the Assyrians, Etruscans and Feudal Japanese; Sudanese iron ring money and the Manilla, African ring money of Nigeria and other parts of West Africa.

Other forms of primitive metal money include copper plate or shield money, Alaska; copper horn money of the Indians on the Michigan shore of Lake Superior and the long hand-wrought iron penny with tail and wing of the Gizzi tribe of Sierra Leone, West Africa.

OTHER MATERIALS

Other materials used for primitive currencies include feathers, ostrich egg shells, human hair, elephant tails, banana seeds, woodpecker scalps, fibre armlets, fibre ear sticks, nuts and coconuts.

Money of Advanced Societies

The clay tablets of ancient Babylonia, up to 5,000 years old, with cuneiform inscription were used as orders, due bills, receipts, etc. and are the beginning of the known history of money.

The earliest formed metal money was the bronze "spade" coin of ancient China which dates about 2000 BC. These were followed by bronze inscribed coins in the shape of a knife, bridge, razor, key, bell, fish, dress or pants (pu), and hoe.

Some other examples are the bullet and pack saddle money of Siam; animal weights of Burma and Cambodia; bamboo tally sticks of China and brick tea money of Siberia.

Emergency Money

SIEGE COINS

A large number of coins of unusual shape and material are found in this series. Siege coins were frequently made by cutting up silver plate so that some coins show the border or edge of the original dish, bowl or plate. During a siege, a time of stress, it was easier in a makeshift mint to cut the silver into square or rectangular pieces of metal and stamp it with some simple device, denomination and date, hence the odd shape. As for odd materials the best example is the paper coins of Leyden struck about 1574 during the siege of that city by the Spaniards.

NECESSITY OR INFLATION MONEY

Examples of this series are the copper plate money of Sweden from the half-daler to the ten daler piece with a weight of over three pounds per daler; the sticks of India ink used in Shanghai, China, in 1932; the Meissen porcelain coins and Osterwiech suede leather money of the German inflation and the hard paper stamp money used in Russia during the first World War.

COUNTERSTAMPED COINS

Counterstamped coins are regular coins with a mark or marks punched on the coin to indicate either a change in value, a change in locality, a change in rulers or to attest to the coin's value.

Examples include Spanish American silver coins counterstamped in 1797 by the Bank of England with the head of George III in a deep oval; French coins counterstamped by the new Republic of France after the French Revolution with the initials RF to indicate the change in government; foreign coins counterstamped with the initials EB by Ephraim Brasher, New York goldsmith and jeweler, as evidence of his approval and as an extreme example the many Chinese chop marks placed on trade dollars as a mark of approval of their value.

Different Money

NOT ROUND

A few examples of the many modern coins which are not round would include the scalloped edge 1952 ten prutah of Israel, the square 1944 two annas of India, the rectangular 1853 one fraction piece of Japan and the twelve sided 1944 three pence of Great Britain.

HOLED

Almost half of all the countries issuing coins in this century have at one time or another issued a coin with a hole in the center.

One reason for doing this is to make the coin larger either to create the impression that there is more metal in the money or to make a coin which is easier to handle. An example is the 1852 gold patterns of half dollars and dollars struck by the United States Mint with holes, the idea being to try to make gold coins of these small denominations with some size to them. Nothing ever came of the idea.

Many of the teeth, shells and beads used as primitive currencies were pierced and strung on native fibers, an excellent example is Indian wampum. For this reason many modern coins intended for use in the colonies of the European powers were struck with holes in them so that they could be strung together. An example is the 1952 penny of British West Africa.

NOT METAL

This subdivision includes the porcelain and mother-of-pearl gaming counters and gambling tokens of Siam, the leather Hacienda tokens of Mexico about 1800, ancient Roman and Arabian glass counters and a set of five plastic 1952 Netherland coins used by the Dutch teachers as a classroom aid.

In addition to these examples coins have been manufactured in clay, rubber and wood.

ODD SIZE

Examples of very small coins include the $\frac{1}{4}$ obol of ancient Greece; the Nineteenth century silver chuchram of Travancore, India; and the smallest coin, also from India, gold, the size of a large pinhead and weighing one grain.

Large coins include the silver ten talers of Brunswick about six inches in diameter and the gold 200 mohur struck at Shahjahanabad by the Mogul Emperor in 1653 which is over five inches in diameter and weighs 70 ounces troy.

MONEY TREE

Instead of being struck many Chinese and Japanese coins were cast in multi-cavity molds. When taken from the mold they resembled a tree. The coins were then broken off the stem and put into circulation while the stem was thrown back into the melting pot. Many complete money trees with all coins attached to the stem survive and they make a very attractive addition to any collection.

Club News

Forty-six dealers and about 4,000 enthusiastic collectors and interested visitors proclaimed the South Plains Coin Club's March 9-10 exhibit and bourse a rousing success. One of the most unusual and interesting exhibits at the show was a replica of the Capitol in styrofoam adorned with over 1500 uncirculated cents. This model was made by Mrs. Oliver Thomas, a member of the Club and its candidate for District 9 governor of TNA. Other outstanding exhibits included the J. V. McDermott 1913 liberty head nickel; the Amon Carter, Jr. 1804 silver dollar; Mrs. Doris Martin's coins of the Bible; the Floyd Covill collection of gold and commemorative coins; and Colonel Bill Royal's collection of antiques. Tornado warnings and severe winds failed to keep people away, as 103 cities in an eleven state area were represented. Dealers and collectors were warm in their praise, and the sincere thanks for a job well done was given by the entire Club membership at the March 11 meeting to General Chairman Homer Hall, Exhibit Chairman Joe Hefner, Bourse Chairman George Privitt, and Publicity Chairman Roger Pierce.

The Roswell (N. M.) Coin Club elected the following officers, who took office at the March 29 meeting: President John Spiesman, Vice President Jim Coll, Secretary Roger Lund, and Treasurer Jim Adams. The Club's address is P. O. Box

At the March 1 meeting of South Bend (Ind.) Coin Club, plans were started for the Club's ninth annual open house to be held October 26-27. George Bess, P. O. Box 843, South Bend, Ind., was appointed chairman. It was later decided to limit bourse tables to the first twenty-two dealers who apply. The charge will be $16 for eight foot tables. The bourse chairman is Jake Lemarr, 1351 Corby Blvd., South Bend, Ind.

The Newton Coin Club of the Tall Corn State has scheduled its second annual show for August 17-18 at the Hotel Maytag. The Saturday's auction will feature the Club's specially designed silent auction, while the conventional type will be held on Sunday. Dealers may reserve bourse tables at $10 by contacting Kenneth E. Cooper, 313 E. 20th St. South, Newton, Iowa. We proudly accepted the compliments of those who attended the I.N.A. convention in Newton last year, and the officers are determined to put forth every effort to please all again. — KENNETH A. BROWN, Gen. Chm.

The Essex County Coin Club, formerly the Newark Coin Club, held its April 9 meeting at the Crestmont Savings new quarters in Maplewood, N. J. There were twenty-eight members in attendance, and two new members were inducted. Plans for the sixth annual show this fall were discussed. Our meetings are held the second Tuesday monthly. —JAMES A. BROWN, Sec. pro tem

The April 4 meeting of Key City Coin Club featured outstanding exhibits by several members. Short reports were given on the recent TNA show, a very interesting one being by junior member Butch Smith. It was announced that a few bourse tables were still available for our July 5-7 third annual show at the Sands Motor Hotel, and that Chairman D. R. Pratt, 2073 Cedar, Abilene, Texas, will welcome inquiries. —PAUL WASHBURN, Sec.

Over a hundred and fifty turned out to the March 24 meeting of West Valley Coin Club to hear Herbert Bergen, A.N.A. Second Vice President, talk on collecting U.S. silver dollars. Bergen displayed his beautiful silver dollar collection and expressed the opinion that the recent release of "O" mint pieces has stimulated the collection of dollars. This was the Club's eighth birthday celebration, and Grace Brainard won first place in exhibits, with second going to Clay Reed. —SID MARKS, Publicity Chairman.

To insure having a truly great show — in fact, the outstanding show of the fall in Northern Illinois, the Aurora Coin Club, Caterpillar Coin Club and the Sandwich Coin Club have combined their talents for planning the Greater Aurora show to be held November 9-10. Every effort will be made to please all who attend, be they seasoned numismatists or just plain novice collectors. As a start, the thirty-three committee members from the three Clubs, and their spouses, had dinner and inspected the facilities of the Holiday Inn on the Illinois Tollway just north of Aurora. The food was fine and the facilities more than ample, so the show is on the road — on the tollway, to be exact. In these three clubs are many members with long years of experience and service to the hobby who, working toward a common goal, can be expected to produce a really fine show. Other features will be announced later, but one of the unusual events will be an auction for junior collectors on Saturday afternoon. Dealers wanting tables should write at once to George Boudreau, 42 Seneca St., Aurora, Ill. For other information, contact Robert Varney, 113 Dee Road, North Aurora, Ill.

An estimated 15,000 persons kept dealers at the 54 bourse tables and the committee members busy at the Northwest Coin Club's March 22-24 convention at the Pick-Nicollet Hotel in Minneapolis, according to General Chairman Gail Wilkerson. Approximately 5,000 registered during the 9 a.m. to 10 p.m. daily hours. Auctioneer Max Winters reported best prices were for key Indian and Lincoln cents during the two auction sessions. Shield nickels showed great improvement over the previous auction, and proof sets brought good prices. Support of the Northwest Coin Club was evidenced in the permanent establishment of a club for youths in the Minneapolis-St. Paul area. Some thirty new junior members were signed up at the special table for junior members, who served as runners during the convention. Club President Jay Swift stated that a number of new members were enlisted for the new Minnesota Organization of Numismatists (MOON). Adult exhibit award winners were: United States coins—first and adult sweepstakes, Jack Janecke, William P. Ulrich; Niels C. Nielsen; coins prior to 1500 A.D.—Mrs. Olive W. Schmidt, Eugene Morris; paper money—Eugene Morris, William L. Brummund; medals, orders and decorations—Eugene Morris; specialized, mint errors, odd and curious—Sanford Serulnic, Maxwell G. Winters; topical—Olive W. Schmidt, Niels C. Nielsen; Canadian coins—J. Mortimer Pugh. Among the juniors, the following won exhibit awards: United States coins—Steve Anderson, William Konack, and Anthony Alfano; foreign coins after 1500 A.D.—Sandra Kokesh, first and Junior sweepstakes (Sandra is a fifteen-

The Treasure Island Coin Club offers collectors a two-day show in an ideal setting for a summer vacation in the resort city of Galveston, Texas, on June 29-30. The "Coin Fiesta" will be held in the picturesque Hotel Galvez, overlooking thirty miles of sun drenched beach which provides swimming, surf or deep sea fishing, and even a chance to search for the lost treasure of Jean Lafitte. Dealers from as far as Oregon have reserved bourse tables, for which the demand has far exceeded the number available. Veteran dealer-show chairman E. E. White and his six committees have plans to offer prize-winning exhibits, auctions, door prizes which include a gold type set, and a wealth of numismatic material in the bourse. Further

A record-breaking 135 members and guests attended the March 18 meeting of Santa Barbara Coin Club in the Carrillo Hotel. In making its report, the nominating committee recommended that starting with the 1964 term, officers be elected for two year terms, that the present officers be re-elected for the 1963 term, and that the Board be increased from five to seven directors. The program chairman then introduced professional numismatist A. Kosoff of Encino. This was his sixth annual visit to our Club and he gave an informative and stimulating talk as usual. Having been asked to speak on the Lahrman sale of the Southern Cal convention, he told us some of the highlights of this sale and commented that, while compiling the catalog, he noticed a definite pattern of estimates versus prices paid for the coins fifteen to twenty years ago. One coin that sold for $4,300 was still in the envelope with $145 marked on it. (Some prices realized in this sale were reported in The Numismatist, April, p. 474.) Kosoff then spoke on territorial or private gold coins, bringing out the history and reason for the issuance of the California gold rush period coins. He called our attention to some of the problems concerning the metal value of coins as related to the market value of the metal from time to time. He believes that the term "slug" for fifty-dollar gold coins came from the fact that "an individual could wrap four or five in a handkerchief, then use this as a weapon to slug a newly rich prospector and put him out long enough to get away with whatever he was carrying." Kosoff's friendly manner and wealth of numismatic experience and knowledge makes him a most welcome speaker. — GWEN SENTIS, Sec.

The Syracuse Numismatic Association will release its 30th anniversary medal at the Empire State Numismatic Association convention at the Airways Inn in Syracuse, May 17-19. However, advance orders for the medal will be accepted by the General Chairman, Gordon Harris, 101 Gordon Pkwy., Syracuse 9, N. Y. The obverse design is a copy of the famous dekadrachm of Syracuse, issued after the defeat of the Athenians 413 B.C. This design features the head of Arethusa surrounded by dolphins. The reverse denotes the name of the issuing organization and the occasion. Incidentally, the medal will make a nice companion piece to the token made by Stearns Bicycle Company of this city in 1897 and 1898, and superbly written up by Arlie Slabaugh in the April issue of Numismatic Scrapbook Magazine. The initial striking of 100 silver medals are priced at $5.00 each and the 400 bronze at $1.00 each. — GORDON HARRIS, Gen. Chm.

The highlight of the third annual Coin-A-Rama to be held by the Central Coast Coin Club will be the $50,000 display of gold by the Bank of America. The affair will be held in the Veterans Memorial building in San Luis Obispo on July 20-21. General Chairman James Silva and his committees have set the hours at 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. on Saturday and 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Sunday. Twelve gold coins will be raffled one hour before closing time, and there will be hourly drawings for 1963 proof sets each day. Awards will be made to exhibit winners in the various classes. — JENNY C. BASSETTI, Publ.

The Pittsburgh Numismatic Society met at the Methodist Center on March 28 with about sixty members and guests in attendance. The program of the evening consisted of questions and answers by a panel consisting of Messrs. Dodrill, Byrne, Hudson and Porter. An interesting discussion was held on the 1962-D dot dime. It was stated that this dime has been found in numbers in Western Pennsylvania, Porter saying that he has examined thirteen rolls of dimes and found seventy-five pieces. The general consensus of the panel was that one should go cautiously relative to the future rarity of this item. Another item of discussion related to the recent silver dollars which were released by the Treasury, and the majority of members thought that this had stimulated collecting of the dollar series. One member noted that the only official U.S. coin that is also a merchant token is the Ben Franklin half dollar with liberty bell on the back. Note the firm name on the bell. Exhibits were as follows: Abraham Lincoln campaign medal overstruck for the Gibson House, Cincinnati — William Ross; rare button of Lafayette and a rare Andrew Jackson campaign button — Jack Martin; complete set of $10 Indian head gold coins — R. Rehula; large collection of spel marks — D. Feisel; and a type set of U.S. silver dollars — George Dunay. Recently elected officers of the Society for 1963 are: President R. Litvinovich, Vice Presidents J. Breyer and J. Booth, and Secretary Miss Connie Leone. — DR. R. J. HUDSON, Corresp.

The Ontario Numismatic Association issued a medal to commemorate its first annual convention, held at Prudhommes Garden Centre Motor Hotel, April 26-28. The St. Catharines Coin Club was host. The provincial flower, trillium, is centered on a shield with the Cross of Saint George above it, a Tudor crown topping the shield. On the other side is a striking totem pole, the design of St. Catharines Coin Club, surrounded by the Club name and the date of the convention. Ronald McQuillan, a fifteen-year-old Toronto student, drew the original design which bears a Latin inscription, meaning "As it Grows it Gathers Strength," below the shield. Elliott-Bishop Limited of Toronto produced the medals which are 29 mm. in diameter and 2 mm. thick at the rim. The limited striking in 10 K gold and in 10 K gold filled are available only in sets of three or four different medals, while those in bronze and sterling may be had singly or in sets. A gold inscribed red plastic holder has been made to house all medals. Application forms for purchasing the medals may be obtained from the Ontario Numismatic Association, P. O. Box 4, Waterloo, Ontario, Canada. — BILL ENGLISH, Publ. Dir.

The Piedmont Numismatic Society will hold its "Summer Coin Festival" on June 28-29 in the American Legion Building, U. S. 321 By-pass in Newton, North Carolina. Free admission, acres of free parking, and refreshments on the premises will be available. Hours will be from 10 a.m. to 11 p.m. on Saturday, and from noon to 6 p.m. on Sunday. Among the numerous displays will be a complete type set of U. S. coins, Confederate and large size U. S. paper money collections, a complete type set of Charlotte gold coins, a very comprehensive collection of old monies of the world, and foreign coins and paper money. Collectors and dealers from at least seven states will be present. Only dealers of proven integrity will be allowed to operate bourse tables, which are available at $12.00 each. Our motto always is that the collector is first and must be satisfied at any event which the Society hosts. We are going all out in promoting this numismatic event and invite you to plan now to attend a fabulous two-day festival. Co-Chairmen are John S. Edwards, Route 1, Claremont, N. C., and Bill Comby, P. O. Box 555, Conover, N. C.

Harry C. Kates of Summit was guest speaker and displayed his magnificent collection of foreign coins at the March meeting of Morris & Essex Coin Club in Livingston, N. J. His fine collection is housed in lucite holders which he made, giving it a most attractive appearance. Harry donated a Canadian proof-like set in one of his holders to the Club for a prize. This Club meets the fourth Thursday monthly at the Livingston Recreation Building in Memorial Park. — ELEANOR L. METZLER, Sec.

Thirty-five members and five guests of Regina Coin Club enjoyed a slide series on "Numismatic Terms" at the March 29 meeting in the Saskatchewan House. The business session was devoted to discussion of plans for a bourse night and for improving the auctions. In this meeting's auction, a 1961 proof-like Canadian mint set brought $8.00. The Club's new mailing address is P. O. Box

174, Regina, Sask., Canada. — BARRIE A. RENWICK, Sec.-Treas.

Numismatic "gemuetlichkeit" was enjoyed by members of Milwaukee Numismatic Society and their visitors at the February meeting. The Librarian reported the donation of a fine book to our growing library, "Coronation and Commemorative Medals 1887-1953," by H. Cole. This is the authoritative book on English medals of the period and furnishes a fine background for this phase of English history. The Club is considering the purchase of a camera, slide projector and screen so that members may make slides of their coins for study, identification and showing at club meetings. We are fortunate in having members with interesting material and who are willing to show it and share their knowledge by explaining the story relating to it. At this meeting we enjoyed Del Bertchy's display of paper money depicting George and Martha Washington and Lincoln, also the Lincoln medal by Grinnell, "Lincoln the Railsplitter" medal and the Washington centennial medal. Gale Highsmith displayed other Washington and Lincoln medals; also a man's iron ring and a lady's bar that were given to persons in Nazi Germany who turned in their gold and silver for the war effort. Other fine exhibits were by C. Opitz and W. Boeyer. James Buchbinder was thanked for carrying out the incorporation of the Society. — WALTER BOEYER

Highlighting the March 24 meeting of the Evansville (Ind.) Coin Club was the slide illustrated talk by seventeen-year-old Robert Kaplan, Jr., of Owensboro, Ky. Speaking on "The First Philadelphia Mint," Robert gave ample evidence that he had made an extensive study of the topic. We learned many pertinent facts about the old mint that were not known to most members. His coverage of the history of minting coins in the early days of our country was thorough. — BETTYE J. KLAUSS, Sec.

The Peninsula Coin Club of Palo Alto, Cal., held open house at its March 25 meeting, and the over three hundred attendance was one of the biggest ever at a one-evening affair in the Bay area. There wasn't a chance to hold a regular meeting, so all formalities were omitted and the evening was devoted to exhibits, bourse and drawing for door prizes. Paper money shown by Rudy Gjurovich accounted for much of the sixty cases of exhibits, which included U. S. coins, Mexican, Spanish and Canadian coins, and coins and plantation tokens of Hawaii by Wilbur Junior High School Coin Club, Tim Blake, Hugh M. Dodge, Ray Erksen, John Fies, Arvid W. Frank, George Frost, Dwight Gabbard, Roy Hill, Harold Moberg, Charles Poetzel, Roland Williamson, and Charles Wish. President Harold Moberg put a lot of energy into lining up and publicizing the evening and was gratified at the huge turnout. Collectors are invited to our meetings the fourth Monday monthly at the Palo Alto Community Center. "Continental Europe" will be the theme for exhibits at the June 24 meeting. — ROY HILL

General Chairman Robert Facinelli announced plans for the Will County Coin Club's coin festival at the April 4 meeting. The affair will be held on June 16 from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. in the

The Central Missouri Coin Club will hold its second annual show in the new air conditioned Agricultural building on the State Fair grounds on June 22-23. For bourse tables at $15 for the two days, please contact Chairman Cecil Schick, 2018 Fairview Court, Sedalia, Mo. — HAROLD GARRETT, Sec.

The Central Florida Coin Club, Orlando, has elected the following 1963 officers: President Cecil Moore, Jr.; Vice President Fred Hicks; and Secretary-Treasurer J. Arthur Smith. Meetings are held the third Wednesday monthly in the Dixie Village Branch of the First Federal Savings & Loan Association. — J. ARTHUR SMITH, Sec.-Treas.

The North York Coin Club, Willowdale, Ontario, held a successful show and auction on March 30. There were over four hundred paid admissions and forty-four cases of exhibits. Judges David Ash, Fred Jewett and Alex Munroe awarded best of show to Roger Fox, with other awards going to John Curtis, Lee Robinson and Ed Schroeder. Action was lively at the hundred-lot auction conducted by Leon Safer and at the bourse dealers' tables. — SELBY O'BRIEN, Editor

At its 667th consecutive meeting on April 4, the Baltimore Coin Club elected the following officers: President Thomas A. Malanowski; Vice President Nicholas Bellesky; Secretary Baldwin E. Dorsch; Treasurer W. Donald Pennington; Librarian Arthur E. Stevens; and Governors Stuart B. Russell, Raymond A. McCarthy, Jr., and Charles R. Zepp, Jr. This Club was organized on April 2, 1935 and is the oldest in the State of Maryland. — BALDWIN E. DORSCH, Sec.

The highlight of the April 8 meeting of Ventura County Coin Club was the presence of A.N.A. Second Vice President Herbert Bergen and Mrs. Bergen. A record crowd of about 160 persons enjoyed Bergen's display and talk on silver dollars. This is a particularly timely subject with the rising price of silver, and he gave us much useful information on the collecting of U. S. silver dollars. The date of our Coin-A-Rama has been set for October 27 at the Ventura Recreation Center. We welcome guests to our monthly meetings the second Monday at the Center. — EVELYN NEWMAN, Sec.

A.N.A. Historian Jack Ogilvie was guest speaker at the March meeting of San Fernando Valley Coin Club, and was presented with a beautiful plaque in appreciation for his talk on Canadian coins. Bill Koonce and Clay Reed had their usual fine displays. — IRENE HAMILTON, Corr. Sec.

Collectors of all ages filled the Bergen Mall Auditorium from 9 a.m. until after 10 p.m. when the Bergen County (N. J.) Coin Club staged its third annual show on March 16. Area shows such as this afford an opportunity for collectors to expose their wares and to develop new interests among the uninitiated, and the committee was encouraged by the enthusiasm of the capacity crowd. Eight surrounding states were represented by visitors who registered. Competitive exhibits were limited to Club members and we were proud of the gratifying results. Judges Michael Granis, Jerry Brunkhorst and Al Mashare decided on Hawaiian Coinage by Andrew Faller as best-in-show, and the following first and second awards by classes: U. S. coins — New Jersey cents by Ed Black, U. S. patterns by Dr. Eccleston; paper money — signed bills by Leon Rosenblum, U. S. currency by William Anton; foreign coins — South African crowns by Carl Pannicke, coins of Panama by Dr. Ecleston; tokens and medals — Civil War cents by Carl Pannicke, Heraldic Art medals by Everett Labagh; miscellaneous — "embarrassing moments" by Leon Rosenblum, freak currency by Anton Mayer. Awards for outstanding non-competitive exhibits went to dealer Doug Weissbach, Raymond Gallo, Michael Granis, Victor Melnechuck, George Wait, Gil Hall, Robert Hadley, Walter Stefanacci, Rocco Stefanacci and Richard Tashjian. A special award was given to International Nickel Company for its feature exhibit of nickel coinage which was shown for the first time in the United States and drew constant attention. Committee members Leon Rosenblum, Ed Lutz, William Anton, Rocco and Walter Stefanacci, Everett Labagh, Gil Hall, Carl Pannicke and Ray Gallo worked hard before the show and were kept busy all day during it, but agreed that the results were worth it. Favorable comments by visitors and bourse dealers have encouraged us to start planning next year's show already. — ANDREW T. FALLER, Pres.

The feature of the April 13 meeting of Hunting Park Coin Club was the exhibition of an uncut sheet of silver certificates, $1, Series 1935E, by Sara McNeill. She gave us an interesting talk on paper money and how it is made. The Board announced that our first open house will be held October 12 in our regular meeting place, Mann Recreation Center in Philadelphia. — JAMES MCNEILL, President

The Western Reserve Numismatic Club held its 498th meeting in April at the Statler Hilton Hotel, with President Fred

Rosenthal presiding. Curator Otto Budde told of plans for our 500th meeting to be held June 12. All living past presidents are on his committee for planning this gala affair. Speaker of the evening was Joseph Sawicki, who spoke on the alphabetic display of dollar size coins of the world which he showed. Other displays were by Joe Lucas, Al Shaffer, Thelma Hiltbrunner and Fred Rosenthal. — FRED N. HALEN, Sec.

The Modesto-Turlock Coin Club is presenting its fourth annual coin carnival on June 8-9 in the Fable Room of Hotel Covell in Modesto, Calif. This year's show is expected to be better than those in the past because it is a two day event, because it is being held in Modesto, and because of the greater public interest in the hobby. Those who attend will find more awards offered for exhibits and a greater number of bourse tables. But admission will be free and several gold coins will be given away. General chairman is Jim Varley, 1512 "E" Street, Modesto, Calif. — C. C. BEERY, Publ. Chm.

The feature event of the April 12 meeting of East Bay Coin Club of Oakland was the presentation of medals to all past presidents, with all but three being present. Medals went to Robert G. McArthur (1948-1950), A. W. Ritchie (1951), Stanley S. Hawley (1952), Gilbert D. Eaton (1953-1955), Don Thrall (1956-1957), Leo A. Young (1958), Roy Hill (1959), Norris L. Baldwin (1960), Edward S. Lane (1961), and Walter Morris (1962). Each of the recipients present gave a short resume of the events of his term of office. Plans are being made for the annual Coinival in October, which will be the Club's big event of the year. — R. J. FROST

At its April 22 meeting the Peninsula Coin Club elected the incumbent officers to serve during the Club's tenth year. They are: President Harold Moberg, Vice President Charles W. Ish, Secretary-Treasurer Roy Hill (seventh term), and Governors Hugh W. Dodge and George Frost. The meeting featured odd and curious monies, and brought out a lot of interesting items and illustrations published in Coin World. A change in programs for the June 24 meeting will allow a big "Swap and Shop" night so that members may indulge in a good old fashioned session. Welcome to our meetings the fourth Monday monthly at Palo Alto Community Center in Palo Alto, Calif. — ROY HILL, Sec.-Treas.

At the April 11 meeting of Big Spring Coin Club, members enjoyed a talk by Wayne Trantham on "Odd Means of Exchange Throughout the World." Wayne is a fourteen-year-old junior member whose father, Floyd, started their collection while serving overseas during World War II. Wayne defined money as anything that people will accept in payment of goods or services, and that can be passed from one to another without loss of value. He explained the barter system of exchange which did not lend itself to saving and which might require a number of exchanges for a person to acquire the thing he wanted. Items which might serve as money must be durable, easy to carry and be divided into denominations, and have a steady value. He mentioned some of the early forms of money, such as the spade coin of China, the tin tree coin of Malacca, the stone money of Yap, silver tiger tongue money of Laos, and the bead wampum of the American Indians. The collection which Wayne and his father exhibited contains over 1700 pieces representing nearly every country in the world. Besides being active club members, the Tranthams meet every other Friday with the Elbow School Club which has twenty-nine members from the seventh and eighth grades. Several members who attended the recent Texas Numismatic Association meeting in San Antonio gave reports on it, and plans were discussed for our observance of National Coin Week. Attendance was sixty at this meeting in the Crawford Hotel building. — MRS. R. W. SANDERSON, Sec.

The forty-nine in attendance at the February 27 meeting of Pacific Coast Numismatic Society provided seventeen exhibits. In the absence of the scheduled speaker, Peter Libby read notes from a tape recording of the speaker's talk on the present gold situation and its relation to numismatics.

Attendance was limited to twenty-eight at the March 27 meeting in the Sheraton-Palace Hotel, San Francisco, by a rainstorm. Clifford Liss exhibited sixty-one of the possible sixty-three commemorative U.S. half dollars and, in his talk on the subject, emphasized the historical value of this series and the knowledge to be gained from studying it. He feels that it is unfortunate that not all states were represented in the series before issuing them was stopped. For instance, New Jersey, one of the original thirteen states, has not been honored by a coin. President Paul Snedaker announced that the Society has been incorporated and has a corporate seal. — MISS MAXINE BRYCE, Sec.

Thirty-six members and guests attended the March 23 meeting of Toronto Coin Club at the Royal York Hotel, and enjoyed a fine talk by guest speaker David Ash, secretary and immediate past president of Oakville Coin Club, and noted authority on British coinage. He dealt with English milled coinage, which was introduced in 1558 by Eloye Messrelle of Paris who, incidentally, was hanged twenty years later — for forgery! An interesting background was provided on the founders of the Soho Mint; being James Watt, the Scottish inventor, and Matthew Boulton, an efficient man of business who took Watt into partnership in 1775. Watt's newly developed piston steam engine was used to operate coin presses in the Soho Mint, and in 1816 this firm contracted to install steam presses in the Royal Mint. Also on April 23, members were taken on a tour of Lackie Mfg. Company, Ltd., manufacturers of the Club's 1961 quarter century medal. The tour was arranged by the firm's manager, Frank Brown, whose description of the design and striking of medals evoked enthusiastic response at the January meeting. — FRANCES DOANE, Editor

Five Centavos (1954-)

A Guide Book of Mexican Decimal Coins 1863-1963, the latest of Whitman's standard catalogs, opens up another interesting field of numismatic venture for the American collector. It covers all coins of the decimal system as well as commemoratives and the 8 reales silver of 1873-1897. Descriptions and prices for various grades of condition are given for every type in chronological order. Dates, mint marks and coinage figures are included. Historical notes about each issue and excellent illustrations bring the material to life. 128 pages, soil-resistant hard cover.

70% CASH ADVANCE

THAT'S RIGHT ! ! ! ! We will advance 70% of the fair retail value of your collection immediately upon receipt. We will then sell your collection at one of our forthcoming auction sales and you will receive your final settlement within 30 days after the sale. Our commission rates are always reasonable.

During the time that your coins are in our possession they are stored in our protected and insured vaults. When you receive your advance check, if for any reason you are not satisfied with the amount of the check, just return it and your coins will be returned postpaid.

In many cases our advance will be almost equal to others offer of outright purchase.

If you are not currently on our mailing list, just drop us a postcard with your full name and address and we will place your name on our catalogue mailing list.

REMEMBER — It is not too late to have your collection included in our next outstanding auction sale.

OUR SALES ARE USUALLY HELD IN THE PARKER HOUSE

We are always in need of desirable numismatic material and will be happy to travel anywhere in the world to acquire it — either for auction or for outright purchase provided the value of the material warrants it.

NO COLLECTION IS TOO LARGE — We will furnish bank references upon request.

THE A.N.A. EXHIBIT CASE MAKER CONTINUES TO ACHIEVE A QUALITY PRODUCT AT REDUCED PRICES:

Outside Size 2" x 18" x 30" Standard
Outside Size 3" x 18" x 30" Deep

Because of further need and demand by both individuals and organizations, larger lot sizes are being manufactured at lower unit cost. This saving is being passed along to quantity users by discounting ten and fifteen percent per new price schedule. This is the best insurance risk case made.

The CENTRAL SHEET METAL PRODUCTS of SKOKIE, ILLINOIS, is producing and offering the above illustrated case in two sizes. All cases are made of prime grade, 16 gage, auto-body steel, welded fabrication and finished by bonderizing and baking Kortex silicone enamels to produce in several colors a porcelain type of coating. Cases are equipped with a secure cover-bracing arm, double-strength Libby Owen Ford glass and double bitted locks. Purchaser may select individual keyed locks or all locks to fit one key; and duplication of keys formerly acquired can be had. Master keying arrangements will be made up for organization needs. All cases are singly cartoned to mirror packaging specifications. Forty or more cases will be finished to a color selection - please inquire. Maximum security locks can be had. Please inquire.

To preserve, beautify and enhance the value of your coins, we recommend and offer

Our own product, unequalled for cleaning coins, particularly useful on coins of copper or nickel. Easy to use, rapid and economical. In stores a 4-oz. bottle is $1.00. The full 4-oz. bottle is now mailed anywhere in the U. S. or Canada for $1.00.

Our new product. Use it to restore the color of age to coins which have been cleaned. Introduced in 1962 and 15,000 bottles sold in four months. In stores the 4-oz. bottle is $1.00. The same bottle will be sent by mail for $1.00, postpaid in U.S. or Canada. "CCD" turns your coins brown, not black.

"CARE"

Recommended for conditioning and preserving coins. Improves appearance and protects against corrosion. The 2-oz. bottle will treat thousands of coins. In stores, $1.35 or by mail, postpaid in the U.S. or Canada, $1.50.

"JEWELUSTER"

We have ourselves used and recommended this dip for more than 12 years; principally for removing tarnish from proof and uncirculated silver coins (Commemorative halves, etc.). 5-oz. plastic jar is $1.00 in stores, or $1.25 postpaid in U. S. or Canada.

"V. M. CLOTH"

For "high-lighting" and improving appearance of badly worn coins. Valuable accessory when used according to directions. Price: 50¢, postpaid in the U.S. or Canada.

Send $4.75 for one each of "CCC," "CCD," "CARE" and "JEWELUSTER" (postpaid) and get the "V. M. Cloth" free.

When we say "postpaid" we mean carefully packaged to meet stiff postal requirements, and safe delivery guaranteed.

DEALERS' INTRODUCTORY OFFER: Get six bottles of "CCC" (4-oz.), "CCD," or "JEWELUSTER" for $4.00 postpaid, or six "CARE" for $5.40 postpaid. Order six each of the four accessories for $17.40 postpaid and receive six V. M. Cloths free.

WHICH COIN DO YOU PREFER?

MICO is a new coin cleaner designed especially for copper coins, works equally as well on nickel, silver and gold coins. We have tested MICO on every possible condition, it works good on XF and AU coins also. Even coins exposed to fire have turned out nice. AMAZING RESULTS usually with the first application; sometimes it is necessary to repeat the application to achieve the desired results. For those hard to clean coins, you owe it to yourself, and your coins to use MICO.

ECONOMICAL: $1 for large 4-oz. unbreakable bottle.

EASY to USE: Simple directions on bottle.

FAST: Works in seconds right before your eyes.

SAFE: Will not harm your most cherished pieces.

VALUE: Adds $$ value to your coins.

FUN: You'll enjoy making your coins beautiful.

EMPIRE WANTS TO BUY!

Empire offers you everything desirable in a numismatic transaction:

- Highest prevailing market price.
- Immediate payment.
- Transaction kept confidential.

If you have choice coins for sale it will pay you to see Empire first. Our large volume of business (over $1,000,000.00 per year in sales) and up-to-the-minute knowledge of the coin market enables us to pay you top dollar for your rare coins. Transactions may be consummated by mail, at our offices or by a visit to your home, if warranted. We are desirous of buying choice and rare United States coins and coins of the world, either individual pieces or entire sets or collections. Immediate payment for all coins purchased. Details of the transaction will be kept confidential. Even the fact that you sold your coins to Empire will be held in confidence if you so desire.

We both lose if you sell elsewhere.

A quote from an unsolicited letter we recently received from Mr. S. L. of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania may be of interest:

"Your price was much more than I had hoped for and I thank you for the prompt and pleasant transaction."

CHECK BLOCK IN COUPON FOR COMPLETE INFORMATION ON AVAILABILITY OF SERIALLY NUMBERED SILVER MEDALS

The Presidential Art Medals program consists of three series of finely sculptured high quality medals, each slightly larger than a half dollar. Presidential Art's Kennedy medal is the only privately issued commemorative medal bearing the President's likeness that is authorized by the President for public and advertising display.

NEW PRESIDENTIAL ART MEDAL HONORS TEDDY ROOSEVELT

Teddy Roosevelt, 26th President of the United States, is the 8th President to be honored in the original Presidential Art Series. President Roosevelt was personally responsible for the change from the Indian Head Cent to the present day Lincoln Head Cent. This medal is a part of a continuing program in which three or four Presidents are commemorated each year. The entire program consists of three series of finely sculptured commemorative medals (see above).

The new Theodore Roosevelt medal is offered as follows:

Platinum (pure)	25 serially numbered pieces	$500.00 each
Silver (.999+)	7500 serially numbered pieces	$ 10.00 each
Bronze		$ 2.50 each

These BRONZE MEDALS are now available for immediate delivery at the original issue price of $2.50 each.

SINCE 1932

EARLY B.U. EARLY B.U. EARLY B.U.

BR. UNC. Unpolished (unhairlined) full mint frost and no wear and bright accustomary colors. (Noticeable ifs, ands or buts grade coin lower.) "U-" means borderline-Unc. "Weak" "Medium" "Nice" "Sharp" refer to sharpness of strike. General pricings 1/5 under book.

[illegible]

PROOF SET INFORMATION CARD—FOR BEGINNERS AND OLD-TIMERS. TELLS OF THE PERSONS, LEGENDS, DESIGNS AND HISTORY IN CURRENT PROOF SET COINS. Folds to fit in mint envelope. The busy dealer may not always remember everything about the current coins or can take time to tell about them, so here's an information card to sell with the proof sets, to show what numismatists are interested in.

Each 20c, Dealer Discounts

"And a mighty nice feeling to sell 'em."

ABOUT UNCIRCULATED — ALL NICE AND SHARP STRIKES

Many of these, bought as Unc., are borderline Uncs. that look Unc. without a glass and an Eagle eye. General prices 1/3 book in Unc. None are polished. "U-" means borderline Unc.

1792 DISME IN COPPER

Reeded edge. We note this type was missing from the Lohr collection, and well it should as it is an extreme rarity; less than 6 known, AW states about 4; we also note that the Lohr Disme with the plain edge and XF brought a price of $9,750.00; ours is About Uncirculated with a tiny mixture (metal) blended in on obv., a striking beauty, sort of touched blond hair. Ex-Wurtzbach collection. $8,750.00

You can purchase durable, but lighter plastic coin tubes from your favorite dealer at the amazingly low price of two for fifteen cents.

These superior quality Megh-rig tubes are made of Styrene, are less likely to break than other varieties of light-weight plastic tubes.

Plastic Tubes

2 for 15c

for pennies, nickels, dimes, quarters,
half dollars, dollars

ANY SIZE — ONE PRICE

Similar in styling to the Megh-rig Heavy Duty tubes, these are offered in any size at only 2 for 15 cents. Whether you need tubes for pennies, nickels, dimes, quarters, half dollars or dollars the price remains the same, two for fifteen cents.

ROMAN SILVER COINS

All general collections should contain, at least, a few ancient coins. Now is the time to get them while prices are still quite low. Remember what happened to Canadian and more recently to English and Mexican coins.

True to Whitman's enviable reputation for quality and appearance, the Bookshelf Coin Albums are the most beautiful way to protect and display any coin collection.

The royal blue, grained leatherette cover embellished in gold shows titles on front and backbone for easy identification. Pages are sturdy dura-board with crystal-clear acetate slides to view coins from both sides. Whitman Bookshelf Coin Albums are available for all U.S. and Canadian coins, and for several miscellaneous collections.

COIN MEDALS . . .

The Magnificent Medals of Real Numismatic Interest

A series of beautifully sculptured, numismatically designed medals commemorating famous coin designers. The Augustus Saint-Gaudens and Victor D. Brenner medals, the first two in the COIN MEDALS series, are now ready for immediate shipment, and the Charles E. Barber medal will be ready in June.

COIN MEDALS are sculptured in very high relief on both obverse and reverse by master artist Robert Schabel, and quality struck by The Metal Arts Company of Rochester, New York. The obverse of every COIN MEDAL depicts the finest medallion work of the artist being commemorated, and the reverse, as shown above, symbolizes his work in coins.

COIN MEDALS are issued in bronze, and in a serially numbered pure silver issue not to exceed 5000. Each medal is three inches in diameter, and weigh close to a half-pound in silver, so they are not to be confused with ordinary coin size medals.

PRICES OF COIN MEDALS

The Augustus Saint-Gaudens Medal: Bronze, $5.50, or2 for $10.00
in serially numbered pure silver, in velvet lined case.....$35.00

The Victor D. Brenner Medal: Bronze $5.50, or2 for $10.00
in serially numbered pure silver, in velvet lined case.....$30.00

Each medal is accompanied by descriptive folder.

SPECIAL, above two medals in silver with SAME SERIAL NO. ..$62.50

PLASTIC HOLDER AS ILLUSTRATED is $7.00. Other holders; single holder, for medal only $4.00: double holder, shows obverse and reverse of medal, $7.00.

Buyers of the Saint-Gaudens medal are assured they can obtain all future medals with the SAME SERIAL NUMBER for a more-valuable matched set, at the issue price of $30.00. You need send only a $10.00 payment now, your order will be acknowledged with your RESERVED SERIAL NUMBER, then pay $10.00 or more a month and each medal beginning with the Saint-Gaudens will be shipped as soon as paid.

We are still buying and selling coins, Half Cents to Gold, Paper Money, Commemorative Half Dollars, etc. For the best prices buying or selling, write us.

CUSTOMER COMMENTS:

"... Please send me as usual ... medium size kits. Thanks again for your always fine service. I can say your Brilliantize does more than people think about—it keeps copper coins B. Unc. for years to come. I have seen some cents Unc. but dark or gray color—and it surely brings back the original mint state—it also prevents many of the Unc. cents to acquire carbon spots—if they apply the Brilliantize when cents look like they begin to have minor carbon spots—it has preserved 98% of my B. Unc. coins from becoming dark and gray and heavy tarnished. I wonder if you don't advertise the good qualities of your product ... I have sold thousands of B. Unc. cents. I never had much trouble. Very seldom I had any complaints. Collectors appreciate coins when they are kept in mint state through using your Brilliantize."—Louisville, Kentucky.

"This is the best polisher and cleaner on the market. Less trouble and easy to do, and the coins look marvelous ..."—Pennsylvania.

THE PEACE ARCH MEDAL

Obverse

Reverse

PEACE ARCH MEDAL 1814-1964

The Peace Arch Medal was struck in anticipation of the sesquicentennial date of the establishment of peace between the United States and Canada. It commemorates 150 years of peace between the two countries.

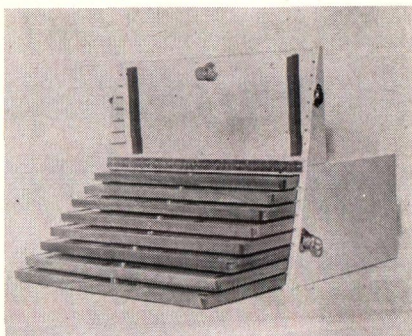

The Peace Arch, in honor of which the medal was issued, stands at Blaine, Washington, on the international border. It is a significant emblem of peace to Canada and the United States, marking 5525 miles of unfortified border which guarantees to the citizens of both countries the rights of free assembly, free speech, and free worship.

500 silver and 1000 bronze medals have been struck. Each is serially numbered. While the entire silver issue has been sold, a small number of bronze pieces is available at $4 each postpaid. The medals measure approximately 1 3/4 inches in diameter.

FOREIGN COINS

For a good many years now a sustained flow of interesting, fairly attributed and soberly priced foreign patterns, gold, crowns, minor coins, medals, proclamation pieces, etc., has moved through my price lists which come out twice a month.

If you have a collection, hoard or stock of worthwhile foreign material you'd like to dispose of advantageously through competent hands, I'd like to hear of it.

QUALITY IS NOT EXPENSIVE IT'S PRICELESS!

This has been Capital's slogan for many years. But it's more than a slogan with Capital . . . it's a way of life. You see, every Capital product, from the largest line of coin holders in the hobby to our new "BOOKETTE", is made with craftsman care. And because of our fanatic attention to quality, we've grown with the hobby. But rest assured, we'll never compromise on quality. See your favorite dealer about Capital products . . . we think you'll agree that quality is not expensive at Capital . . . it's priceless.

PAUL REVERE

Rare Colony of Massachusetts Bay notes designed and printed by Paul Revere, and having the famous reverse, the figure of a patriot soldier with sword in hand. These notes usually come in poor shape. These are above average. We purchased them in a collection put together by Jonathan Harrington, a Revolutionary War soldier, who fought in the Battle of Lexington on April 19, 1775. We have a letter in his handwriting as the last survivor of this battle.

ANNOUNCEMENT

In my recent wholesale list, I listed copies of the Israel shekel, and the Athens tetradrachm. Both were listed as copies, but they should not have been listed at all, as it is detrimental to numismatics.

I have withdrawn them all from sale, and do not intend to list similar items again.
